PREMIUM CORN-FED BLACK ANGUS BEEF RAISED RESPONSIBLY AND SUSTAINABLY BY THE FARM FAMILIES IN AMERICA'S HEARTLAND

JUICY, TENDER AND FULL OF REMARKABLE FLAVOR ... IOWA CORN-FED BEEF IS BACK!

Iowa's iconic reputation for producing well-marbled, flavorful beef is rooted in its agricultural heritage.

The time-honored husbandry practices along with the attention to cattle care and comfort provided by family farm-feeders produce premium beef.

Family Farm Raised • Black Angus

Iowa Premium is a regional beef packing facility located in Tama, Iowa. We offer a full line of boxed beef and variety meats to domestic and international customers.

SAVOR A WORLD OF FLAVORS IN MARSHALLTOWN

ften the most unexpected dining destinations are the most memorable. These are the flavors you crave. These are the experiences you relish in your culinary memory long after the meal. These are the food adventures you'll savor in Marshalltown.

“For a community of 27,000 people, it’s truly amazing all of the dining options we offer,” said Val Ruff, Executive Director of the Marshalltown Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Whether you want fine dining, casual options, ethnic cuisine, local settings or quick eats, Marshalltown serves up global flavors accented with Midwestern flair. All these options reflect the unique social fabric of Marshalltown itself.

Marshalltown provides a unique venue to “meet in the middle,” thanks to its prime location in central Iowa along Highways 14 & 30. Diversity defines Marshalltown, from its residents and its local mom-and-pop businesses to the global corporations that call the community home.

“We have 69 dining options throughout the city, including 17 options downtown,” Ruff said.

Food and culture come together to create fun events year-round in Marshalltown. The Latino Heritage Festival and Oktoberfest are just two of these. Marshalltown also hosts the popular Marshalltown Art Festival (formerly known as Linn Creek Arts Festival), the Central Iowa Fair and more.

“Through it all, you’ll discover a diverse culinary epicenter in Marshalltown,” Ruff said. “We invite to you sample all that Marshalltown has to offer.”

FINE DINING

Consider Marshalltown the home of upscale dining made easy. You'll enjoy first-class service and exquisite meals at Tremont on Main. Housed in the historic Tremont building at 22 W. Main St., Tremont on Main offers a gourmet menu featuring Iowa premium grass-fed aged Angus beef, Iowa pork, lamb, seafood, chicken and more.

Owned by J.P. and Jennifer Howard (she's a Marshalltown native), Tremont on Main offers a full bar, along with seasonal farm-to-table menu concepts for elegant, yet affordable, dining. After dinner, you can retire upstairs to the exclusive, historic Tremont Inn for overnight lodging. The 11 guest rooms, each featuring unique decor, offer a comfortable place to relax and recharge, all with a view of Marshalltown's charming Main Street.

The Tremont building itself has been a Marshalltown landmark since 1874. Originally a three-story hotel, the Tremont was a premier property known for hospitality. It was destroyed by a fire in 1902 and rebuilt in 1904. Renovated in phases, with care and attention to historic detail, this Main Street anchor now boasts the boutique hotel, along with two exceptional restaurants, including Tremont on Main and the Tremont Grille.

Combining world-class service with hometown hospitality, the Tremont offers an ideal location for a weekend getaway or corporate meetings.

CASUAL DINING

You can make every day a celebration, even if you just want to enjoy a casual meal with your family. Not only does Marshalltown offer well-known chain restaurants like Applebee's, but there are also plenty of hometown casual dining options that add local flavor.

Calvin Rockett Bar & Grill on South Center Street offers something for everyone, from the outdoor patio to the kids' menu to some of the best Bloody Mary cocktails in town. Calvin Rockett Bar & Grill is open for lunch and dinner, with favorites ranging from pasta to steak.

Hungry for barbecue? Check out Smokin' G's BBQ Restaurant & Catering. Locally owned and operated, you'll find Smokin' G's downtown just west of the Marshall County Courthouse at 25 W. Main St. Stop in for slow-smoked meats, including smoked prime rib and some of the best brisket in Central Iowa. Pair your main course with homemade sides, appetizers, desserts, wine, bottled beer and select well drinks.

Another tasty barbecue option is Haley's Deli Barbeque & Catering at 501 N. Third Ave. Open for lunch and dinner, Haley's offers smoked meats from ribs to pulled pork, plus they're famous for broasted chicken, homemade side salads and desserts.

Love sports? Stop by Legends American Grill on South Center Street. Open for lunch and dinner (along with breakfast on Saturdays and Sundays), Legends includes a full bar and is the home of sports, good drinks and great food.

ETHNIC DINING

Whether you're tempted to try Thai, want to venture into Vietnamese fare, or crave more Mexican/Hispanic/Latino flavors, it's all here in Marshalltown. Multiple generations of immigrants from around the world - from Latin America to Southeast Asia - have settled in Marshalltown through recent decades, bringing with them a desire to pursue the American dream as they build a new life and open new businesses in Central Iowa.

Favorites like Maria's Tacos on West State Street have helped redefine Marshalltown's dining options with global flavors, served up with Midwest style. Don't need a meal? Explore ethnic specialties at Lara's Bakery, which offers authentic pan mexicano (Mexican sweet breads) and beautiful birthday and anniversary cakes, along with savory treats like yeast rolls with jalapeños and cream cheese.

Ethnic flavors also abound at the Latino Heritage Festival, which is held each September in Marshalltown. Sample food from multiple countries, and enjoy cooking demonstrations during this fun event.

Latin flavors abound year-round at locally owned restaurants like Ay Caramba, where owner Oscar Sanchez uses fresh ingredients to create burritos, tacos, nachos, burrito bowls and more. At Mi Ranchito Mexican Grill and Seafood, feast on lobster ravioli or fresh oysters on the half shell. Also savor Marshalltown's diverse ethnicities and cultures at Abarrotes La Salud, a small grocery store/eatery, and Zamora's, which serves up authentic Mexican favorites.

Craving a taste of Asia? Jack's Pho' House at 10 W. Main St. features authentic recipes from Laos, Vietnam and Thailand. Everything served here is homemade and prepared fresh daily with locally sourced ingredients. Menu options include gluten-free, vegan and vegetarian dishes.

PIZZA

There's nothing like a great slice of pizza, and there's nothing like Zeno's Pizza. Established in 1952, Zeno's is located at 109-111 E. Main St. and is known for serving some of the most flavorful, distinctive pizzas in the region. Zeno's specialty pizzas include Bacon Cheeseburger, Taco, Vegetarian, Meatatarian (with sausage, hamburger, Canadian bacon, pepperoni, ham and bacon), Mexican Fiesta, Hawaiian, BLT and Bavarian (with sausage and sauerkraut).

Not sure where to start? Try the Zeno's Special, a longtime favorite topped with sausage, mushrooms, pepperoni, onion and green pepper. No matter what you order, from a 10-inch small pizza to a 16-inch jumbo pizza, you can't go wrong at Zeno's, which received TripAdvisor's 2016 Certificate of Excellence.

If you're a hearty eater looking for filling, affordable pizza options, try O'Hungry's. Located in the Best Western Hotel near Highway 30 and open for breakfast, lunch and dinner, O'Hungry's is known for its $5 pizza. Choose from an array of options for your two-topping pizza, including pepperoni, sausage, hamburger, Canadian bacon, bacon, green pepper, black olive, green olive, mushroom, pineapple, jalapeño or Buffalo chicken.

There are plenty of other prime pizza options in Marshalltown, as well, from MAMA DiGrado's PASTA & PIZZA (known for its famous thin-crust pizza) to the well-known chain restaurants Pizza Ranch and Pizza Hut.

QUICK EATS

An Iowa classic offers one of the most distinctive destinations for quick eats in Marshalltown. Taylor's Maid-Rite serves up savory loose-meat sandwiches made of finely ground hamburger. Cooked to perfection, the hamburger is scooped into a bun and served with mustard, pickles or chopped onions.

Located at 106 S. Third Ave., Taylor's Maid-Rite is a third-generation, family-owned business. The restaurant's roots date back to 1928, when Cliff Taylor purchased the franchise for $300. This was just two years after Fred Angell started the Maid-Rite concept in Muscatine, Iowa. The very qualities that made Taylor's Maid-Rite popular throughout the decades remain today. The restaurant still grinds 100 percent choice beef daily (to ensure its quality and freshness) and is open year-round.

Want a side of history with your meal? Consider Dairy Queen, which has two locations in town. Not only is the Dairy Queen on 711 N 3rd Avenue open year-round, but it also was established in 1947, making it one of the first 100 Dairy Queens to open in the United States. The restaurant has been owned for decades by the same local family, and proprietor Tyler Wollam will be happy to share more of this history when you stop by.

Craving more hot eats and cool treats? The south side Dairy Queen at 2107 S. Center Street, run by the Pisney family, offers year-round inside dining.

COFFEE & SWEET TREATS

Marshalltown offers plenty of inviting places to start your morning right or to take a break during the day. The locally owned West End Perk, in the revitalized 13th Street District, caters to early morning diners, the lunch rush and coffee lovers. This quaint coffee shop offers an appealing venue to relax and visit with friends while enjoying homemade muffins, cinnamon rolls, caramel rolls and scones, along with sandwiches and sides.

Your Plate or Mine at the Orpheum Theater downtown showcases specialty coffees, pastries, hot breakfast items and daily lunch specials.

Stop by the Tremont Grille, an Italian bistro on Main Street. Enjoy a hearty breakfast or tasty lunch. While there, indulge in a luscious Italian soda or try a cup of Muddy Waters Coffee Company's gourmet coffee, espresso, cappuccino or latte. This Italian bistro serves breakfast and lunch Monday through Saturday. Outside covered dining is available, weather permitting.

Don't forget DOO Dah's Diner, a Marshalltown tradition known for its homemade breakfasts; Cecil's Cafe, a Marshalltown institution serving traditional American fare from omelets to waffles; and OJ's Diner, a classic local cafe that serves pancakes, hash browns and other favorites.

AREA EATERIES

The greater Marshalltown area offers an array of unique dining experiences in the small towns within easy driving distance. These are the sought-out eateries that everyone loves, and they all bring something distinctive to the table.

That Place just west of Conrad along Iowa Highway 14 combines the old-school ambience of a supper club with unforgettable food, from prime rib to Iowa chops. It's always busy, so don't forget to make a reservation.

The Haverhill Social Club in Haverhill, a tiny town of roughly 173 people south of Marshalltown, delivers big flavor. Stop by for pizza options galore.

Take a drive to State Center to enjoy the golf-themed St. Andrew's Grill and Bar at 101 Second Street S.E. Start off your day with a hearty Breakfast Burger, boasting Texas toast, an 8-ounce patty, cheddar cheese, a fried egg and crispy bacon. For lunch, don't miss the Cheeseburger Wrap. This St. Andrew's original features a burger wrapped in a flour tortilla with lettuce, pico de gallo, bacon, three kinds of cheese and avocado ranch, grilled to perfection. If you want a classic taste of Iowa, savor a grilled or breaded pork tenderloin, a house favorite prepared from pork loin cut and tenderized right across the street at the State Center Locker.

Other great dining options around the area include Baileys Pizza & Broasted Chicken in State Center, Rube's Steakhouse in Montour, the Sunrise Cafe in Le Grand, and Flatheads Bar & Grill in St Anthony.
