Artisanal Soap Making has a Special History in Hot Springs

The process of making soap has been around for hundreds of years, and right here in Hot Springs, history is being made every day. Creator Charlene Simon has turned a centuries-old process into an art form with superior skin benefits. She began making soap in her kitchen as a hobby when she was 17. While her husband was serving on submarines in the U.S. Navy, Charlene began making soap not only to pass the time, but also because she found a unique beauty in the process. Creating something ordinary and turning it into a small treasure has become her life's work. She says "It's like baking a cake for someone, except they can't eat it!"

After years of her children saying "Mom, this milk tastes like lavender!" her husband built a designated space for her to pursue her craft. Over the past 20 years, Charlene has turned her kitchen-table-hobby into a multi-state chain of bath & body stores called Bathhouse Soapery. Ten years ago, she and her husband started Bathhouse Soapery in Hot Springs, right on historic Bathhouse Row. In the beginning, the soap making operation was small and all the soap was made in the back of the Hot Springs store-front. Bathhouse has become a must-see attraction for visitors traveling from all over the globe to the area, and for good reason...

Hundreds of years ago, soap was made efficiently once a year by using rendered hog fat and homemade soda ash. Stirred over an open fire, in a big black cauldron, a chemical reaction would take place. The resulting bar of lye-soap wasn't necessarily skin-loving, but cleansed well enough for the time. Poorly calculated recipes sometimes resulted in "lye heavy" soaps, which explains lye's bad reputation that lingers even today.

While the soap-making process remains in the foundation of Charlene's methods, she says, "the real secret is in the ingredients". Instead of hog fat and stove-top renderings, Bathhouse uses luxurious plant oils such as olive, coconut, and soy to create artisanal soap bars. Charlene's own decade-old recipe has been perfected down to the gram, creating a bar with a copious lather and nourishing benefits, especially for those with dry, irritated, and/or maturing skin. Customers rave about how Bathhouse's soaps have aided with eczema, psoriasis, and infected skin issues. But the effectiveness is only part of the experience. Picking out a favorite soap scent and texture among the 50 varieties Bathhouse makes is the main reason why Bathhouse has become a jewel in downtown Hot Springs shopping.

Today, Bathhouse makes all of their soap in Hot Springs about two miles from their retail boutique. Charlene and four others, including her daughter, are privy to the exclusive recipe and process. Soap can be made with thousands of ingredient combinations, and Charlene has spent nearly 20 years crafting a recipe that is superior, effective, and indulgent. That kind of dedication to the craft is respected by the individuals honored with the duty of making it.

Charlene shares her knowledge of soap making as the VP of the Handcrafted Soap & Cosmetic Guild. She also speaks all over the U.S. about her experiences as a soap maker and business owner. Above all, she enjoys living out her passion creating bath luxuries with her family and staff of nearly 50.

From early exploration of its healing waters and the city's infamous mobster past to its Major League appeal and Tri-Lakes reputation — there's a lot to learn about Arkansas' favorite tourist destination.

PARADISE FOUND

Visitors can't help but feel the thousands of years of history surrounding them in Hot Springs — history that continues to bubble up every minute. The hot spring water comes from rainwater that fell more than 4,000 years ago. It percolated 2,000-8,000 feet into the earth where it became superheated by surrounding rock before rising and emerging at 147°F from the area's 47 hot springs.

While no one knows when the first humans came to what is now Hot Springs, experts believe Native Americans were using the springs as a peaceful gathering spot as many as 10,000 years ago. The Native Americans called the area "the valley of the vapors," where tribes could put aside their differences and enjoy the rejuvenation of the springs. Oddly enough, this area became "neutral ground" again in the 1930s when mobsters from Chicago, New York and Los Angeles came to fraternize together and get away from it all.

EUROPEAN EXPLORATION

Spanish explorer Hernando de Soto is believed to be one of the first European visitors to what is now Hot Springs while on his quest for an earthly paradise — a fabled city of gold. Guided by Native Americans, he and his troops arrived in September 1541 to partake in the thermal springs. As far as it's known, de Soto was the last European visitor for more than 100 years, until French explorers Marquette and Joliet arrived in 1673 to claim the area for France. Possession seesawed between France and Spain until 1803, when the United States acquired it as part of the Louisiana Purchase.

AMERICAN SETTLEMENT

In 1804, President Thomas Jefferson commissioned an expedition to explore the area. The explorers found a log cabin and a few rudimentary shelters used by people visiting the springs, but no permanent dwellers. In 1807, a man named Prudhomme became the first settler of modern Hot Springs, and John Perciful and Isaac Cates soon joined him.

In 1820, the Arkansas Territorial Legislature requested the springs and the adjoining mountains be deemed a federal reservation. Congress established the Hot Springs Reservation on April 20, 1832, to protect the hot springs area. This makes Hot Springs the oldest park in the National Park System — 40 years older than Yellowstone.

In 1921, Congress changed the name of Hot Springs Reservation to Hot Springs National Park, which now encompasses 5,500 acres. The park includes famous Bathhouse Row, which consists of eight unique, turn-of-the-century bathhouses in the heart of downtown.

A RESORT IS BORN

Over the years, Hot Springs became famous for its therapeutic benefits. The area attracted more visitors and developed into a well-known resort nicknamed “The American Spa” because it attracted not only the wealthy but also health seekers from around the world. It was believed for hundreds of years that the natural thermal waters could cure any number of ailments, including arthritis and polio. The baths faded as a medical treatment with the advent of modern medical science, but people still came by the thousands for relaxation.

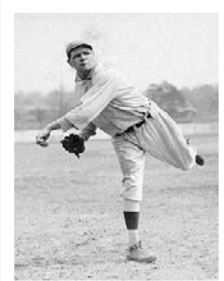

Famous visitors who have frequented Hot Springs range from boxing champion Jack Dempsey, to performers Sarah Bernhardt, Liberace, the Smothers Brothers, Bill “Bojangles” Robinson and Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman. It's reputed that Tony Bennett first performed his signature song “I Left My Heart in San Francisco” during a rehearsal at the Black Orchid Club in 1963, and in the 1940s, actor George Raft could often be seen driving his convertible along Central Avenue.

BASEBALL CAPITAL

During the late 19th and early 20th centuries, Hot Springs was the off-season capital for Major League Baseball. The Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates, Brooklyn Nationals, Chicago White Stockings and the Boston Red Sox all held spring training in Hot Springs. Babe Ruth first visited the spa city as a young pitcher with the Red Sox, but returned often for baths and rounds of golf.

In celebration of these deep connections to America's pastime, the city recently inaugurated The Historic Baseball Trail. A series of plaques and a smartphone-guided tour mark major moments in Hot Springs' baseball history — like Babe Ruth's first 500-foot-plus home run achieved while playing ball at Whittington Park.

Babe Ruth trained in Hot Springs nine times; he's shown here at Majestic Field in 1915.

BENEATH YOUR FEET

For years, the springs flowed into Hot Springs Creek, which ran through the middle of the resort town. In the late 1800s, the creek was put into a channel and roofed over. Today, the creek continues to flow under Central Avenue.

THE GANGSTER ERA

From the 1920s through the 1940s, Hot Springs flourished as a place where the famous and infamous came to enjoy the thermal waters, luxury hotels and illegal gambling and bootlegging — especially in the 1930s. Gambling hotspots included The Ohio Club, Hot Springs' oldest bar, and The Southern Club (now the location of the Josephine Tussaud Wax Museum), which was reputed to be owned by mobster Owney Madden. He was one of the founders of the New York mob, was part of Murder, Inc., and owned Harlem's famous Cotton Club.

Illegal gambling was permanently shut down in Hot Springs in 1964, thanks to a federal crackdown on what the government called "the site of the largest illegal gambling operation in the U.S."

BATHHOUSE ROW

One of the most notable Hot Springs features is Bathhouse Row, which consists of a series of eight historic, architecturally unique bathhouses lining Central Avenue.

The Fordyce Bathhouse, built in 1915, is one of the most recognizable of the eight and serves as the Hot Springs National Park Visitor Center. The Fordyce Bathhouse is the largest and most ornate of all the bathhouses in town.

In 1922, the Quapaw Bathhouse was built in the Spanish Colonial Revival style and boasts a large Moorish-style dome capped with a copper cupola. Possibly the most interesting aspect is the basement grotto containing the Quapaw Spring, which serves as a natural steam room for the bathhouse today.

Buckstaff Bathhouse, built in 1912, is the oldest bathhouse still in operation. It was built in the Neoclassical Revival style, with engaged Tuscan columns that divide the main façade into seven bays flanked by pavilions at the north and south ends.

WATER WONDER

In 1871, pharmacist Peter Greene and his brother John bought Lockett Springs in Hot Springs and began selling mineral water they called Mountain Valley Spring Water. By 1928, the water's popularity and association with the health spa boom allowed the company to expand distribution — making Mountain Valley the first bottled water available coast to coast. Famous fans of the water include Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley, and it was even the choice of the U.S. Senate in the 1920s. Today, visitors can explore the company's rich history at Mountain Valley's Museum of Bottled Water. The museum showcases nearly 150 years of bottles, barrels, photographs, specialized machinery and more.

AFRICAN AMERICAN LEGACY

Prior to the Civil Rights Movement, Hot Springs' bathhouses were racially segregated, with the best bathhouses catering to whites. Despite the injustices segregation caused, the city saw a flourishing of African-American bathhouses after the turn of the century.

The Crystal Bathhouse, built in 1908, was the first black bathhouse in the city and operated until a fire destroyed it in 1913. The Pythian Bathhouse & Sanitarium opened on the site of the old Crystal Bathhouse the next year and served patrons — including many black celebrities — until 1974.

Perhaps the grandest, the Woodmen of the Union, opened in 1922 with first-class hotel accommodations, a 2,000-seat theater and a steady stream of entertainers and celebrities during its heyday.

Calendar of events 2019

DOWNTOWN

Day or night, Central Avenue is teeming with activity. The main thoroughfare through the city passes by Bathhouse Row, which features eight, architecturally unique, turn-of-the-century bathhouses.

A rich history and modern luxuries beckon visitors to the heart of Hot Springs

Experience the opulence of an era when bathhouses were the playgrounds for the rich and famous in downtown Hot Springs. Many of the buildings downtown were constructed during a time when Hot Springs rivaled Las Vegas and Atlantic City as a gambling mecca in the South. Now the buildings house shops, art galleries, restaurants, music venues, theaters and museums.

Study the history of Bathhouse Row and the city's thermal springs at the Hot Springs National Park Visitors Center, housed in the historic Fordyce Bathhouse, or experience it for yourself at Quapaw Baths & Spa and Buckstaff Bathhouse — the only still-operational bathhouses within the park. Many downtown hotels also offer soothing baths and massages.

Wander behind the bathhouses and you will discover the springs themselves, still bubbling to the surface as they have for thousands of years. Stroll the half-mile brick path for a spectacular view of downtown as well as a quiet escape into nature. Several mountain trails begin along the wide Promenade.

You can ride (or hike) to the top of Hot Springs Mountain, where Hot Springs Mountain Tower stands above the National Park and offers a 140-mile view in all directions on a clear day.

Want a closer look at the National Park? Several more hiking trails await you on West Mountain. You can also drive to the top to catch more magnificent views of downtown.

Downtown is home to some of Hot Springs' most beloved eateries. Fuel up for the day at The Pancake Shop, a popular spot that tends to have long lines on the weekends (but those flapjacks are worth it). DeLuca's Pizzeria is a must. The restaurant makes its pizza dough fresh, by hand, every single day in limited quantities, but folks can call ahead and reserve their dough. Another Hot Springs mainstay is Rolando's Nuevo Latino Restaurante & Speakeasy, known for its unique dishes and the gorgeous back patio nestled against Hot Springs' West Mountain.

Downtown's nightlife scene is popular among tourists and locals alike. Superior Bathhouse Brewery is the first brewery located inside a national park and the world's first to use thermal spring water as its main ingredient. Or head to The Lobby Bar at the Arlington Hotel for a nightcap with a side of jazz music from Willie Davis & Co. on Friday and Saturday nights.

If you want a more comprehensive tour of the area, Anita Lynn Historic Tours are just the ticket. Anita's tours have been a staple in Hot Springs tourism for more than 30 years. Tour goers will experience Bathhouse Row, drive through the historic business district, see President Clinton's former home, hear about famous and notorious visitors, touch and taste Hot Springs' thermal water and much more.

Discover awesomeness along Central Avenue

The name doesn't lie. This centrally located avenue passes right through the heart of The Spa City—beginning its journey in historic downtown, cutting a path past Bathhouse Row and Oaklawn and continuing south all the way to scenic Lake Hamilton. There's so much to enjoy along this main thoroughfare, you'll want to set aside plenty of time to do it all.

On the northernmost leg of Central Avenue lies 1 The Arlington Resort Hotel & Spa. This historic hotel was once a home-away-from-home for notorious Al Capone.

The Pancake Shop is a must-try breakfast spot. Next door, you'll find a gourmet store called The Savory Pantry. Another nearby store is the Bathhouse Soapery known for its handcrafted soaps and gifts.

Take a tour through the one-of-a-kind Maxwell Blade's Curiosity Museum. Then, try your hand at an escape room experience at Escape Hot Springs.

Staying on Central Avenue, book a treatment at the historic 7 Buckstaff or Quapaw bathhouses. And Superior Bathhouse Brewery offers craft beer inside a repurposed bathhouse.

For lunch or dinner, consider these local faves found on Central Avenue: Vault, DeLuca's Pizzeria, Rolando's Nuevo Latino Restaurante and Core Public House. And just around the corner on Grand Ave. is 501 Prime, a new dining hotspot with a wide selection of whiskey and bourbon.

Grab a cab or the car, because further down Central Avenue you'll find more can't-miss attractions, including 14 Oaklawn Racing & Gaming. Hopefully, you came during racing season (Jan. 25-May 4).

If not, you can still try your luck in the newly revamped casino before heading off to enjoy delicious food at Stubby's Bar-B-Que, La Hacienda or Bone's Chophouse.

Keep going. Central Avenue has even more to offer as you head toward the lakes. Stop at JavaPrimo Coffee House, Café & More for a gourmet latte (you'll need an energy boost for all this exploring!) or stay for a full meal (breakfast or lunch) at this beloved local establishment.

Pop into 19 Hot Springs Mall to shop a great variety of stores, then cruise Lake Hamilton aboard the Belle of Hot Springs Riverboat. Later, take the family out for mini golf at Pirate's Cove Adventure Golf and a sundae at Hot Springs' beloved Scoops Homemade Ice Cream. After a long day exploring the city, rest your head in one of the tranquil, waterfront rooms inside the acclaimed 23 Lookout Point Lakeside Inn.

A SURE BET FOR A GOOD TIME

If you're looking for excitement, make a stop at Oaklawn Racing & Gaming premier Thoroughbred racetrack since 1904, Oaklawn's live racing season runs from January into May. More than a million visitors every year flock to this Spa City icon, which was recently named one of the top 10 Thoroughbred racetracks on the continent by Horseplayers Association of North America. And with a total purse of just over $30 million allotted for the 2019 season, Oaklawn is increasingly attractive to world-class competitors — especially for the Arkansas Derby, a stepping stone to the Triple Crown. Aside from the track, Oaklawn boasts live blackjack and poker (as well as electronic card game tables), roulette, craps, a high-limit area and hundreds of slot machines.

HIGH STAKES

The future of Oaklawn is looking bright with the announcement of plans for a huge expansion project costing in excess of $100 million — making it one of the largest hospitality investments in the history of Arkansas. The project will include a seven-story hotel, multi-purpose event center, a larger gaming area and additional on-site parking.

The yet-to-be-named hotel will have 200 rooms, views of the racetrack on one side and the lakes on the other, an outdoor swimming pool, a luxury spa, fitness center and restaurant. Next to the hotel will be a 14,000 square-foot multi-purpose events center that will be perfect for concerts, meetings, banquets and weddings.

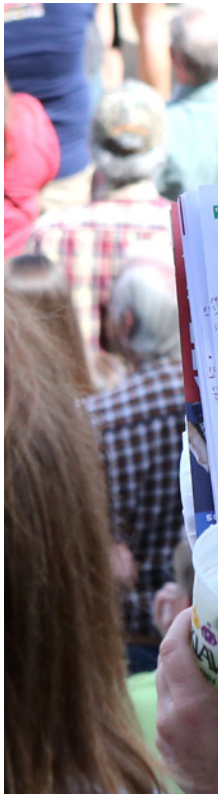

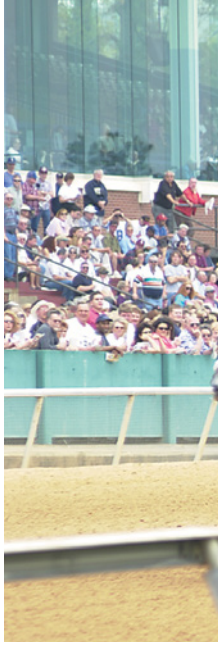

The project also includes the addition of approximately 28,000 square feet of gaming space and significantly expanded parking. Thanks to the casino measure passed in 2018, Oaklawn can bring in slot machines and table games, making it a full-scale casino.

RIGHT ON TRACK

Construction on the project will begin in May, immediately following completion of the racing season. The target completion date for the gaming expansion is January 2020. Oaklawn aims to have the hotel and event center completed in late 2020.

After a particularly rainy season in 2018, Oaklawn announced it will shift its racing season to later in the calendar and for the first time, racing will "Stay Until May." Typically, the season ended after the Arkansas Derby on the second Saturday of April, but now Oaklawn will be open until the beginning of May. It's the biggest change in the traditional Oaklawn racing schedule since World War II.

The new hotel will feature 200 rooms, views of the racetrack and nearby lakes, a luxury spa, a new restaurant, and an adjacent 14,000 square-foot multi-purpose events center for concerts, meetings, weddings and more.

PLAN YOUR VISIT

Live racing runs from late January to early May; gates open at 11 a.m. The casino is open from 10 a.m.-3 a.m.

Sunday-Thursday and 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Friday and Saturday; closed Easter and Christmas Day.

Derby Day

The crown jewel of the Oaklawn season has to be the Arkansas Derby. The derby was first held in 1936 and awarded a $5,000 purse to the winning horse, Holl Image. Today, the Arkansas Derby boasts the highest purse of Oaklawn's races ($1 million). The derby has been held every year since 1936, with the exception of 1945, when Oaklawn was forced to cancel its entire racing meet because of World War II. Tens of thousands of people from all over the state and beyond flock to Hot Springs for the derby, dressed to the nines in elaborate hats and colorful pastels. This year, you can catch the fun on April 13.

MIDTOWN

DAVID YERBY

For more than 60 years, Stubby's Bar-B-Que has served its popular barbecue — a meld between Tennessee and Texas styles. But the restaurant isn't just a Spa City favorite. Stubby's barbecue sauce is well-loved and sold in grocery stores nationwide.

Bustling area known for gaming, good food and a whole lot of family fun

More entertainment, restaurants and shopping opportunities await you in the area of Hot Springs sandwiched between downtown and the lake district.

The jewel of this area is Oaklawn Racing & Gaming, a Thoroughbred horse track. It has drawn thousands of visitors over the years and has witnessed the rise of many champions, including 2015 Triple Crown winner American Pharoah. In 2018, Oaklawn announced a $100 million-plus expansion with the construction of a high-rise hotel, event center and expanded gaming area. While horse racing is hosted only from Jan. 25 through May 4, Oaklawn is open year-round (except Christmas Day and Easter) for off-track betting, card and electronic games like poker and blackjack, and thousands of slot machines.

Further west, just off U.S. Highway 70, is the Mid-America Science Museum, Arkansas' largest hands-on science center. Families can experience a wide range of interactive science exhibits, including a virtual-reality simulator on a roller coaster and the chance to explore an "underground cave." The museum just completed a $7.8 million renovation and is one of only two Smithsonian Institution affiliates in the state.

Popular restaurants like La Hacienda and nationally acclaimed Stubby's Bar-B-Que, bustling retailers like those at the Hot Springs Mall, and luxurious spas like Destinations Day Spa, pepper the Midtown area with even more vacation fun.

LAKE DISTRICT

Lake Ouachita is surrounded by the Ouachita National Forest and has one of Arkansas' most pristine shorelines at some 970 miles. Recreational boating, water skiing, scuba diving and other water sports are very popular on this lake.

Hot Springs' other famous water keeps visitors coming year after year

Thermal springs aren't the only famous water in this resort town. The city is also regarded as a recreational hot spot thanks to three lakes on Hot Springs' southern and western edges.

Lake Ouachita, Lake Hamilton and Lake Catherine were created by dams on the Ouachita River primarily for hydroelectric purposes. Today, the lakes attract hundreds of thousands of visitors each year for boating, fishing, camping, hiking and nature watching.

Lake Hamilton is the busiest of the three, with shores that are dotted with lake homes, lodging rentals, marinas and restaurants. One of the most popular lake attractions is the Belle of Hot Springs Riverboat, which offers dining, sightseeing and dinner-dance cruises.

Lake Catherine includes Lake Catherine State Park, which features boat rentals, boat tours, guided horseback trail rides and guided hikes, as well as a pavilion, camping area and visitor center.

Completed in the 1950s, Lake Ouachita is the newest lake, and at 40,000 acres, it's also the largest man-made lake in Arkansas. Known for its clarity, Lake Ouachita is a great spot for scuba diving. Divers can explore water that now covers valleys and ridges of the Ouachita Mountains. Fishing enthusiasts are fond of Lake Ouachita too; its waters are filled with bream, crappie, catfish, striped bass and largemouth bass.

The lake is connected to Lake Ouachita State Park, which offers camping, cabin and boat rentals, and wilderness trails. Several privately owned resorts dot the shoreline, including a visitor favorite, Mountain Harbor Resort & Spa.

The Belle of Hot Springs is a 225-passenger riverboat offering sightseeing tours of Lake Hamilton, as well as dinner and dance cruises.

Garvan is one of the most popular tourist destinations in Arkansas, especially in the spring, when the Tulip Extravaganza draws daily crowds to see 150,000-plus colorful blooms.

new tree house for kids

Garvan Woodland Gardens unveiled a new, kid-approved addition in summer 2018.

The garden teamed up with the Fay Jones School of Architecture & Design to create the magical Bob and Sunny Evans Tree House located within the Evans Children's Adventure Garden.

The tree house floats among the branches of pines and oaks. The structure perfectly blends in and feels like a natural part of the forest.

The tree house is also a place for children to learn more about nature through interactive exhibits and structures. The interpretive elements enable children to learn and explore by stimulation, rather than just reading plaques.

For more information about the gardens or the new tree house, visit www.GarvanGardens.org.

PERENNIAL FANTASY

Explore the beauty of Garvan Woodland Gardens

Named one of the top five gardens in the country, Garvan Woodland Gardens is a 210-acre woodland fantasy located on a Lake Hamilton peninsula. One of the highlights of the gardens is the architecture, inspired by renowned architect and Arkansas native E. Fay Jones who believed architecture should reflect and fit within the natural beauty surrounding it. Jones designed the Garvan Pavilion, which serves as the center of activity for the gardens. His influence is seen in other structures in the gardens, such as the Anthony Chapel.

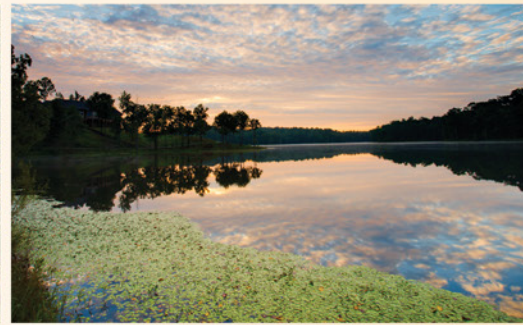

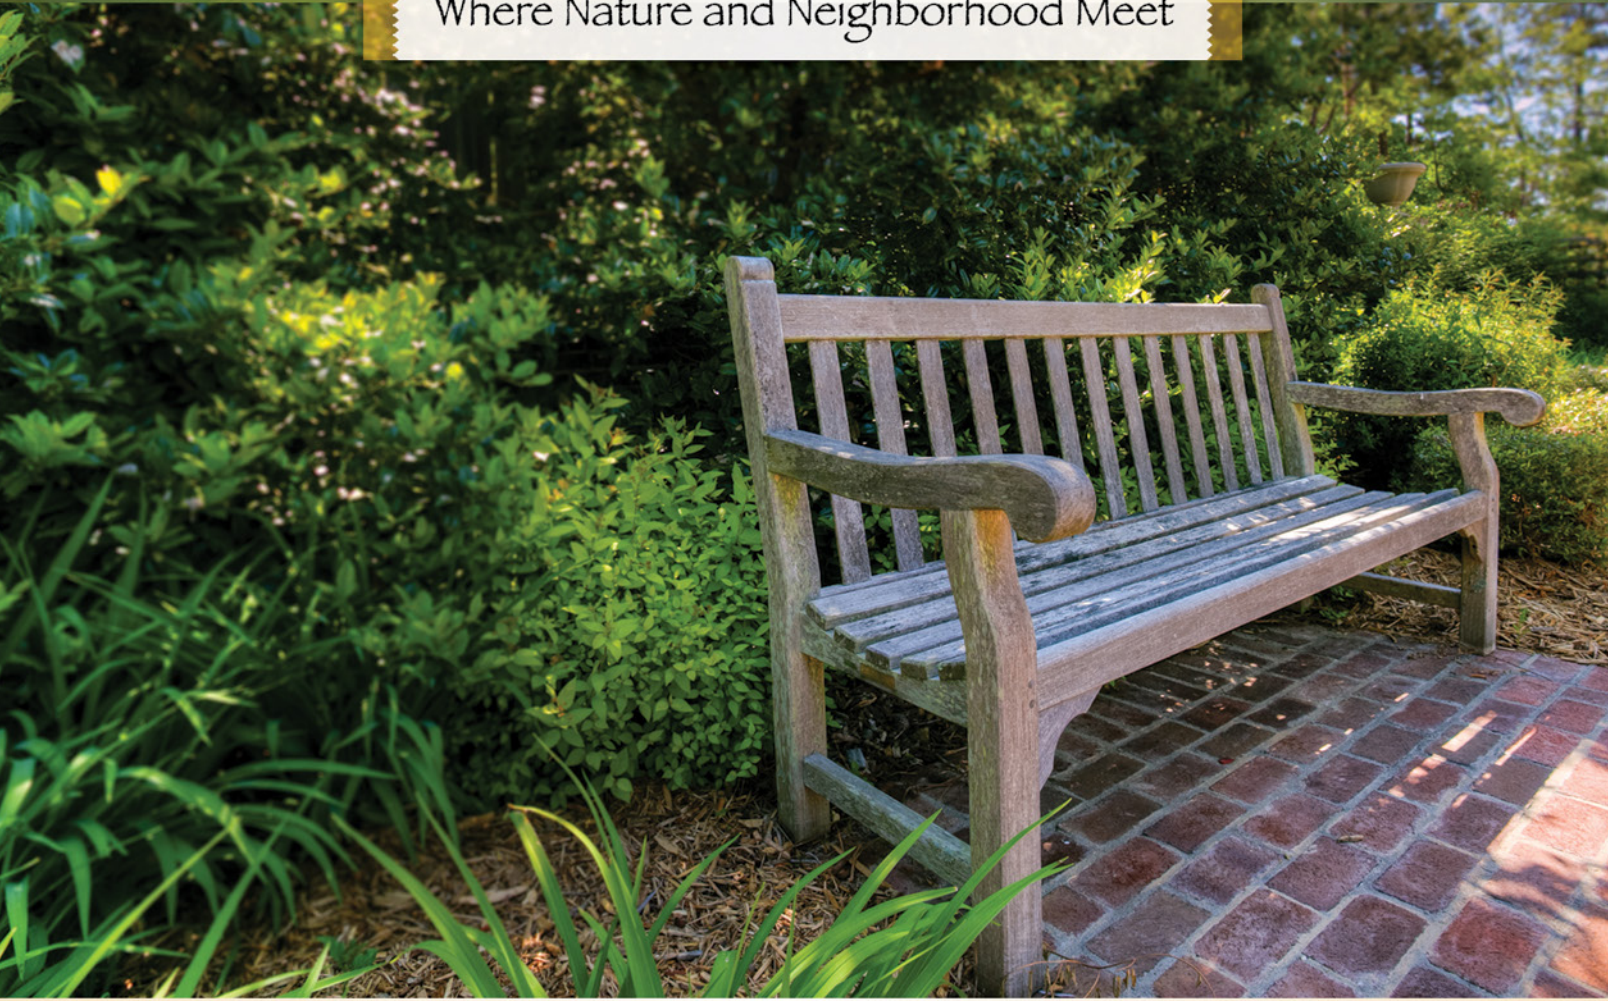

Special events are scheduled throughout the year, including Daffodil Days and Tulip Extravaganza in springtime, and Fall Flower Days in October, which celebrates a rainbow of 8,000 chrysanthemums in bloom. Don't miss the popular Holiday Lights at Garvan Woodland Gardens, which illuminates the area's winter beauty with 5 million Christmas lights during much of November and all of December. This holiday event is so popular, it lures visitors from across the state and the region each year.

Special exhibits are hosted each year, including past exhibits like "Mystic Creatures" (pictured), which showcased fantasy- and fairytale-inspired topiary sculptures.

Recreational paradise in the heart of the Ouachita Mountains

Hot Springs Village might be the largest gated community in the United States, but its gates beckon instead of rebuff.

Every day, greeters at the east and west gates welcome visitors from all over the country to this charming Arkansas hamlet, located just 15 miles north of Hot Springs.

Its placement in the verdant foothills of the Ouachita Mountains, among 12 beautiful lakes, makes HSV one of the most beautiful communities in Arkansas and one with boundless opportunities for recreation. From world-class golf and tennis to fishing and waterskiing to pickleball, lawn bowling and mountain biking — there's something for everyone within its 26,000 acres.

Established in 1970, HSV was created to form a tight-knit community of active people who wanted to surround themselves with the beauty of the Natural State. More than 45 years later, the thriving village is exactly that to more than 15,000 residents. Even with 8,500 homes, HSV is still only 25 percent built-out, with thousands of acres reserved for green space within the gates.

Vacationers rent condos and houses close to the lakes, which boast crystal clear water and are surrounded by verdant trees and wildlife. There are also fabulous rental properties with golf course views and an RV park.

The newly renovated, full-service Waypoint at Desoto Marina has an espresso/coffee bar among its list of offerings.

HSV's popular Grove Park hosts Sunset Cinema summer movie nights, Rock Porch Sessions that feature live music, and much more throughout the year. Three swim beaches draw families for fun in the sun. Farmers and artisan markets offer fresh food and crafts seasonally. Thirty miles of biking and hiking trails showcase HSV's natural beauty; and adventure providers like Basecamp offer excitement in the form of geocaching, paddleboarding, kayaking and rock climbing.

WHITNEY BOWER IMAGING

Hot Springs is a hot spot for destination weddings; more than 1,600 brides say I do here annually

When it comes to planning a wedding in Arkansas, Hot Springs is an ideal destination. Lush gardens, sparkling lakes and scenic mountains, plus its central location and proximity to Interstate 30, make it an easy choice for Arkansas brides and many from out of state. The Spa City is home to every type of service you need to plan a dream wedding — from bridal boutiques, caterers and florists to rentals, photographers and jewelers. The abundance of accessible vendors means Hot Springs is a one-stop shop for stress-free planning. And regardless of the wedding style or theme, Hot Springs has options to fit every taste and budget. It's no wonder TheWeddingReport.com reports more than 1,600 couples chose to get hitched in the Spa City each year. Other perks? It's notoriously affordable; brides find wedding planning stress relief at many spas; and out-of-town guests have endless options for lodging, sightseeing and fun.

The Spa City is not only a great wedding destination, it's also a popular choice for bachelorette weekends and bridal beauty and spa appointments.
