THE STORY of LONGMONT

The past, present, and future of the city we love

In 1900, vice presidential candidate Theodore Roosevelt made a campaign appearance in Longmont on a "whistle stop" tour. Two bronze statues at Longs Peak Avenue and Coffman Street commemorate his visit.

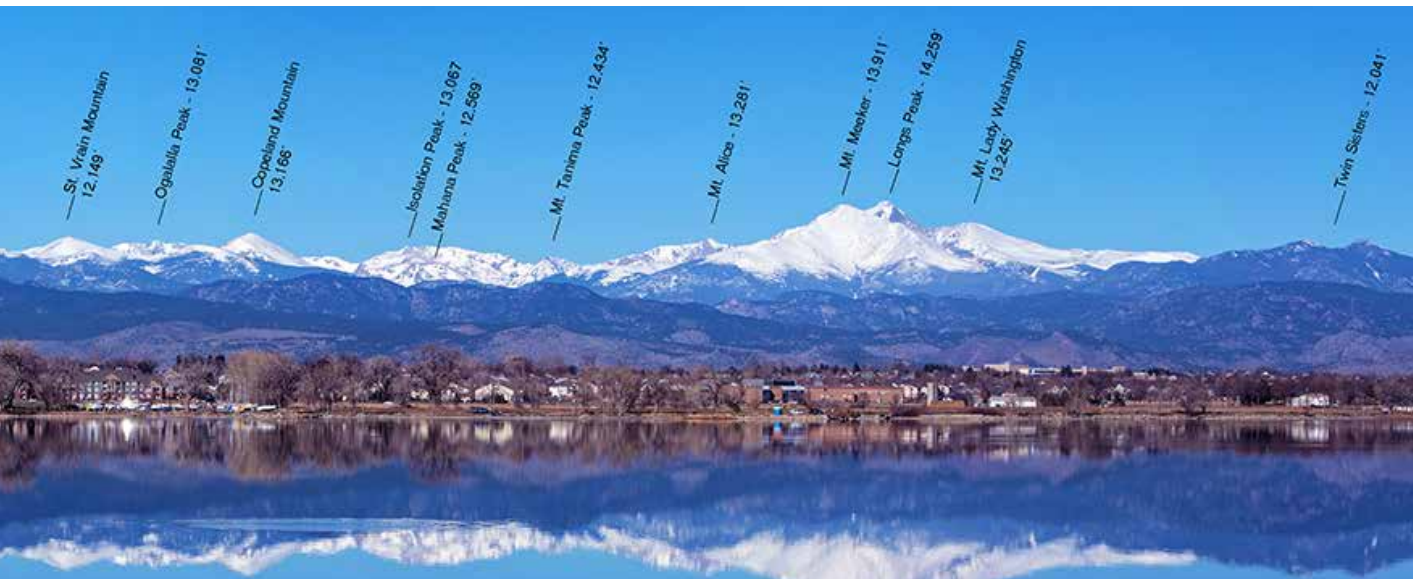

Searching for a new place to put down roots, a group of prominent, ambitious men from Chicago established the Chicago-Colorado Colony. In 1871, the town became "Longmont" in honor of Longs Peak, the mountain named after explorer Stephen H. Long. The first flour mills were built in 1872, the Empson vegetable cannery was built in 1889, and what became the Great Western Sugar Company was built in 1903. The area became well-known for the sugar beets that flourished here.

Our roots are in farming, and our farm-to-table heritage is still an integral part of our community today. But when you visit, you'll see that Longmont is also much more diverse now. Technology arrived in the 1950s when the FAA opened an air traffic control center and IBM built a large facility to the west. Things got even higher-tech in the 1990s, with the arrival of companies like Seagate, Xilinx, and West Safety Services (formerly Intrado), and Smucker's got in on the act in 2019 when they opened a large manufacturing plant. Longmont is home to a dozen of Colorado's more than 400 craft breweries, and our downtown was certified as a Colorado Creative District in 2012.

We've also got some claims to fame that we're pretty proud of, like being the location of J.C. Penney's very first store (a meat market), and we're the hometown of astronaut Vance Brand, who flew on

NASA's Apollo Soyuz mission. Thanks to the city's livability, Money Magazine named us as one of the Best Places to Live in the U.S.—twice. And, because of our ongoing commitment to building a vibrant community through civic engagement, collaboration, inclusiveness, and innovations, we were honored with the prestigious All-America City Award in 2006 and again in 2018; this award is given to only 10 cities nationwide.

Despite all the growth and changes since those Chicagoans first arrived to work the land, we still like to think of our town as a small one. You'll see why, as you wander into the shops, galleries, and restaurants in our quaint downtown, explore the bustling areas around it, relax in our parks, and marvel at the grand homes in the Historic Westside and Eastside. In each place, in every neighborhood, and with everyone you meet, you'll feel the warmth and pride of the community that has endured since Longmont was first established.

Longmont's history is alive, the present is vibrant, and the future has untold excitement in store. We invite you to explore it all on your next getaway. ✨

The Tower of Compassion in Kanemoto Park was a gift from the Kanemoto family, Japanese immigrants who found a home in Longmont during WWII.

The historic Callahan house, built in 1892, was gifted to the city of Longmont in 1938 by Alice and Thomas Callahan. The beautiful home, built with sandstone from nearby Lyons, is available for special events. The lovely garden is open to the public.

YOUR LONGMONT BUCKET LIST

Longmont has plenty of activities to make your trip memorable, whether you're visiting Longmont for a day, a weekend, a week, or even longer. There's something for every interest, every age, and every season.

SIP AND SAVOR YOUR WAY THROUGH TOWN

Taste Longmont's craft beer, ciders, and spirits. Let the Brewhop Trolley be your designated driver—just hop on and off at each location! It's even more fun when you take advantage of our free Crazy Good Craft Passport. Get yours at www.VisitLongmont.org/craft.

TEST YOUR BIKING SKILLS!

In town, Longmont has miles and miles of bikeable trails along the St. Vrain Greenway. Or explore the foothills of the Rockies on a mountain bike at Hall Ranch, Rabbit Mountain, or Heil Valley Ranch.

SAVOR OUR CHEESE LOVER'S PARADISE

Visit Cheese Importers, a French-inspired bistro and artisan market, to marvel at the more than 400 varieties of cheese in the massive walk-in cooler. Or learn how to make your own cheese with the Art of Cheese, a cheesemaking school offering classes for everyone from beginners to experts.

SOAR TO NEW HEIGHTS

Longmont is the home base of Mile-Hi Skydiving, Colorado's top skydiving facility with more than 35,000 jumps made annually! Head to Longmont's Vance Brand Regional Airport and take a jump to view the scenic Rocky Mountains from 17,500 feet above sea level!

BROWSE THE SHOPS, EATERIES, GALLERIES, AND MORE IN OUR DESIGNATED CREATIVE DISTRICT

The Downtown Longmont Creative District features an eclectic mix of art galleries, theaters, music venues, events, and entertainment options. On 2nd Fridays, enjoy gallery openings, promotions, and activities taking place throughout downtown.

SHOP FOR DEALS, STEALS, AND TREASURES

Find the perfect keepsake to remember your trip, and pick up souvenirs for family and friends. You'll find local handmade gifts, unique boutiques, specialty shops, antique and thrift stores, and much more.

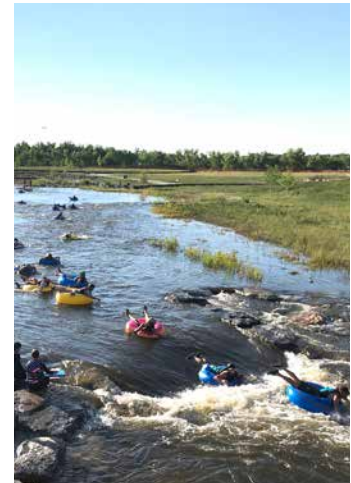

VISIT A DINERS, DRIVE-INS, & DIVES LOCATION FOR A UNIQUE DINING EXPERIENCE

Three of our favorite eateries were featured on the popular Food Network show "Diners, Drive-Ins, & Dives." Visit The Roost, Samples, or The Post Brewing Co. to see (and taste) for yourself what Guy Fieri was raving about!

CHECK OUT THE LONGEST- RUNNING FARMERS MARKET SEASON IN THE STATE

Collect your farm fresh fruit, veggies, meat, wine, and more at the Longmont Farmers Market.

EMBARK ON A WATER ADVENTURE

We've got lots of ways for you to cool off during the hot summer months. Union offers stand-up paddleboard and kayak rentals, and Rocky Mountain Paddleboard has all you need for the perfect summer adventure. Or head to Dickens Farm Nature Area for an afternoon of tubing along the creek.

GRAB A FRESH CATCH OF THE DAY, ANY TIME OF YEAR

Try your hand at St. Vrain State Park, a premier fishing spot. The park boasts 604 acres of land and 152 acres of water split among several ponds. It's popular with anglers, campers, photographers, birders, walkers, and anyone else who loves the great outdoors. *

EXPERIENCE THE BEAUTY OF EVERY SEASON

Spring, summer, fall, or winter... Longmont is a four-season playground, with something fun to do no matter the season and no matter the weather. Find detailed information about each carefully curated itinerary at VisitLongmont.org/plan/itineraries.

SPRING

Spring is the perfect time to visit our popular farmers' market that has the longest market season in the state of Colorado. Heil Valley Ranch or Rabbit Mountain Open Space are great locations for an invigorating hike. Our spring itinerary also includes visits to the Agricultural Heritage Center, the Longmont Museum, and some of our favorite brewpubs. 🍷

SUMMER

Take in the beautiful mountain views at McIntosh Lake, or visit Union Reservoir, where you can rent kayaks or stand-up paddleboards. Enjoy lunch on one of the rooftop patios downtown, then cool off with a dip in one of our public pools. ☀️

FALL

Autumn is a gorgeous time in Colorado, so if you're lucky enough to visit us then, you'll enjoy this itinerary showcasing apple picking and pumpkin patches, plus warm food, tasty craft beverages, and our famous Día de los Muertos celebrations. 🍂

WINTER

Cozy up to this indoor/outdoor itinerary featuring cold-weather activities like ice fishing, ice skating, and sledding. Then warm back up again with lots of great choices for indulging in comfort foods and warming spirits. The holiday season is filled with light displays, parades, and downtown shopping. ❄️

What's YOUR Travel Persona?

Your travel persona describes you—or, more accurately, the you that's on vacation. It dictates just about everything you do on a trip, whether it's a quick overnight, a weekend getaway, or a two-week vacation. Your travel persona starts with the destination you choose, and it also influences where you stay, what you eat, the souvenirs you purchase, and the activities you enjoy doing the most.

Here are the top five personas of visitors to Longmont, in no particular order. You might see yourself in one of them, or your travel persona could be a combination of a few. Even if your travel persona isn't represented here, we know you'll find plenty of attractions and activities in Longmont to make your visit memorable.

PERSONA: FOODIE

Does this describe you?

You have a refined palate, and you don't just eat because you're hungry. You seek out the very best food and drink because it's your hobby and your passion! You have your favorites, of course, but you're never afraid to experience new tastes from a wide range of cuisines.

We know you'll love: Cheese Importers, our 160+ restaurants, the Longmont Farmers Market, our craft-beverage makers. (See pages 24, 30-31, and 32-33.)

PERSONA: TRAVEL BUFF

Does this describe you?

You're happiest when you're visiting new places. Once you arrive, you can't wait to learn everything possible about a destination. That means you're up for just about anything, from arts and culture to history and outdoor adventures.

We know you'll love: The Longmont Museum, the Downtown Longmont Creative District, the Agricultural Heritage Center, McIntosh Lake. (See pages 10, 18, and 20.)

PERSONA: OUTDOOR ENTHUSIAST

Does this describe you?

You'd much rather be outside than in, no matter the weather. It's possible you're drawn to high-energy activities, or you could prefer calmer, back-to-nature pursuits. You're perfectly content as long as there's no roof above your head.

We know you'll love: The St. Vrain Greenway, Rabbit Mountain Open Space, Dickens Farm Nature Area, Sunset Golf Course. (See pages 26 and 28.)

PERSONA: DOG LOVER

Does this describe you?

You simply won't go anywhere unless your pup is invited, too. You've always got a ball nearby so you can play fetch at a moment's notice. You truly pamper your pooch, maybe more than you pamper yourself.

We know you'll love: Union Reservoir's dog beach, Golden Ponds, any (and every) dog-friendly craft brewery. (See page 34.)

PERSONA: MUSIC FAN

Does this describe you?

Your toes start tappin' as soon as you hear the first notes, and you're not shy about singing along. You might also be skilled on an instrument (or several), and if you are, you likely take it with you wherever you go.

We know you'll love: The Downtown Longmont Free Summer Concert Series, the Longmont Symphony, live music sessions at bars, restaurants, and breweries.

LEAVE NO TRACE

CARE FOR COLORADO PRINCIPLES

■ KNOW BEFORE YOU GO:

Do your research to know what you'll need. Take a reusable water bottle everywhere

■ STICK TO TRAILS:

Help natural areas stay natural by staying on the path.

■ LEAVE IT AS YOU FIND IT:

Take home the beauty in a photo and not in your backpack.

■ TRASH THE TRASH:

If you pack it in, pack it out — even food scraps. If you come across trash, pick it up.

■ BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE:

Keep campfires small, and put them out until you can handle the embers.

■ KEEP WILDLIFE WILD:

No feeding, approaching or touching, no matter how cute they are.

■ SHARE OUR TRAILS & PARKS:

Yield to the uphill bikers and hikers; silence your cell phone and search for the trail less traveled.

WITH A LITTLE PREPARATION, A SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE AND A SOFT SPOT FOR NATURE, YOU'LL BE ON THE TRAIL TO EXPLORING COLORADO LIKE A LOCAL.

LONGMONT: AN ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT HUB

Downtown Longmont is an official Colorado Creative District, a prestigious designation awarded by Colorado Creative Industries. The district includes dynamic public art, art galleries and studios, theaters, venues for taking music or dance lessons, and so much more. And the rest of Longmont is pretty creative, too, with even more arts and cultural opportunities to explore. So sit back and enjoy some live music, take in an inspiring film, make something with your hands, or learn a new creative skill. Here's just a sampling of all that Longmont has to offer. Check the Events Calendar at www.VisitLongmont.org for a list of upcoming performances and other arts-related events.

ART GALLERIES

The nonprofit Firehouse Art Center offers rotating exhibits in two galleries and hosts special events like the twice-yearly ArtWalk, the annual Catrina Ball that celebrates Día de los Muertos, poetry nights, and live music. Downtown also has numerous art galleries for browsing and shopping.

FILM

The annual Boulder International Film Festival screens several of its films at the Longmont Museum & Cultural Center. The Front Range Film Festival, held each February, visits several area venues. For more films, check the New Trojan Movie House, the Longmont Library's program calendar, and the museum's Views & Brews schedule.

PUBLIC ART

Longmont's Art in Public Places (AIPP) program maintains more than 100 pieces of public art throughout the city, both permanent installations and temporary ones as part of Art on the Move. Watch for the brightly painted electrical boxes throughout town — those are part of AIPP's Shock Art Program. For a self-guided tour, pick up the Longmont Bike Map at the Visit Longmont office, or access a list online.

MUSIC

The Longmont Symphony Orchestra performs more than a dozen times throughout the year, including The Nutcracker during the holidays and family concerts. Other chances to hear live music include free summer concert series sponsored by Downtown Longmont, the Longmont Public Library, and Village at the Peaks, plus live music at many restaurants, bars, and breweries all year long.

Social Poll Winner

We asked our social media followers about their favorite place in Longmont to enjoy local art.

First Place!
Downtown along Main Street

The Longmont Performing Arts Center is a delightful Art Deco movie theatre that the Longmont Theatre Company has renovated into a live playhouse, and they've been staging quality productions for decades. Jesters Dinner Theatre presents youth and adult productions and comedy nights. Several dance companies stage performances by both beginners and pre-professional students.

PERFORMING ARTS

HISTORY & CULTURE

The Longmont Museum & Cultural Center features changing and permanent exhibits in art, science, and history, and it also hosts the largest Day of the Dead celebration in the state. The museum's 250-seat Stewart Auditorium hosts films, lectures, and performances of all types. Three other small historical museums are also open seasonally: the Agricultural Heritage Center, the Dougherty Museum, and the Sandstone Ranch Visitors and Learning Center. *

Celebrate Longmont's RICH FARM-TO-TABLE HERITAGE

Longmont's history started with agriculture, and farm-based businesses continue to thrive today.

We're also pretty proud of the farm-fresh goodness that can be found all over town, plus down-to-earth activities like cheesemaking and apple-picking. Here are some of our favorite ways to honor and celebrate our important farming heritage.

The Longmont Farmers Market, featuring the longest market season in the state, is held every Saturday from April through November at the Boulder County Fairgrounds. The market brings together farms and artisans from all over the area to sell their veggies, fruits, eggs, natural products, and other farm-fresh bounty. Check out the market's weekly live music and events calendar at www.bcfm.org. There's also a Winter Market, the first weekend in December.

A number of local farms offer farm stands, farm tours, farm dinners, and other farm-related activities for the whole family.

Pick your own apples and enjoy famous apple cider donuts at Ya-Ya Farm & Orchard. The orchard also hosts special events like AppleFest in the fall and hard-cider-making workshops.

A quintessential stop for every visitor to Longmont is Cheese Importers. This family-run business, a staple in the community since 1976, offers more than 400 types of natural, organic, and imported cheeses. There's also a retail market and a French-inspired bistro.

For a glimpse into the fascinating agricultural history of Longmont, visit the Agricultural Heritage Center. This rural site focuses on the years 1900 to 1925, when families prospered as farmers and witnessed the coming of the Modern Age.

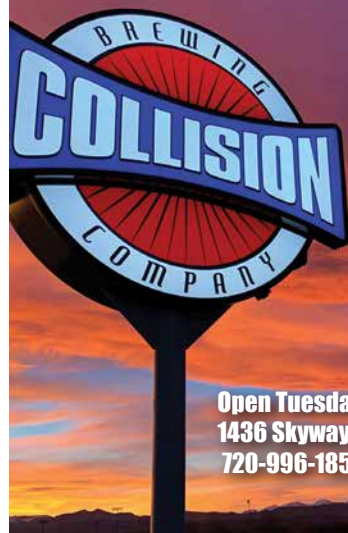

The Art of Cheese is Longmont's very own cheesemaking school at Briar Gate Farm on the west side of town. A wide variety of classes are offered, from beginner to advanced. Check the class schedule at www.TheArtOfCheese.com. *

EXPLORE THE Great OUTDOORS

Here in Longmont, we take full advantage of the fact that Colorado gets 300 days (or more!) of sunshine every year. Head to one of our parks or nature areas, spend a day on the water, soar to new heights (and then jump out), or enjoy a relaxing round of golf. No matter the season, we've got a fun outdoor activity for every age and every interest.

Sunset Golf Course

Longmont is home to three amazing public golf courses, and with our great weather, it's often possible to play year-round.

Union Reservoir

We've got numerous ponds, lakes, and reservoirs that are great fishing destinations, including St. Vrain State park with its 152 acres of water split among several ponds. Ice fishing is also popular there in the winter! Learn more at www.visitlongmont.org/things-to-do/parks-outdoors/fishing.

Note: A state fishing license is required for ages 16 and up.

Experience a dramatic, birds-eye view of Longmont and the Front Range from above when you schedule an unforgettable hot air balloon ride or skydiving adventure.

The Flavors of Longmont

Longmont is home to more than 160 eateries of all styles and cuisines, so there are plenty of options for everyone, from happy hour and fast casual to artisan and upscale dining. Many local restaurant menus are influenced by locally grown and seasonal foods, with offerings that rotate throughout the year, allowing foodies to savor something new and exciting each time they visit.

Tangerine serves up classic breakfast, brunch, and lunch fare, but with a creative twist inspired by healthy Mediterranean cuisine and highlighted by fresh, local ingredients.

Flavor of India in Downtown Longmont is known for its authentic Indian cuisine made with time-honored recipes, offering a big-city experience in a warm, welcoming environment. As soon as they step through the front door, customers are greeted with the delicious fragrances of carefully blended spices like coriander, turmeric, and ginger.

Can't decide where to eat?
Let Wonder Tours whisk you off on a culinary journey through town. Check the calendar at www.WonderTours.com.

Find more restaurants at www.VisitLongmont.org or stop by the Visitor Center at 512 4th Ave, Ste.103, to grab a printed list you can keep with you on your adventures.

Don't miss Longmont Restaurant Week 2020, the ultimate celebration of our thriving dining scene! From April 17-26, enjoy $18.71 and $28.71 special deals at some of our most popular eateries.

Brewing

Our state ranks third on the list of the most craft breweries and Colorado couldn't have done it without Longmont, which is home to 13 breweries, including two of the top-producing breweries in the state, Oskar Blues and Left Hand Brewing. The lager-exclusive Wibby Brewing is also one of the most-searched breweries in Colorado. Longmont is also home to three distilleries, a cidery, and a popular hop-on, hop-off trolley service that will transport you to many of them. CHEERS!

BREWHOP TROLLEY

Hop on, hop off! The BrewHop Trolley is a fun, responsible way to visit many of Longmont's breweries in one day. One low daily ticket allows you to jump on and off the vintage trolley whenever you wish.

Brewhop also offers special tours for sporting events, food/cocktail pairings, and private event charters. 🐾

300 SUNS

This brewery, named in honor of Colorado's 300+ days of sunshine, recently opened a companion restaurant, Scratch Kitchen. Chef Nate Say cooks up brewpub classics and an indulgent Sunday Brunch. "We just wanted to be the kind of place where people could enjoy hanging out with their friends, laughing and having good conversation, craft beer in hand," says Jean Ditslear, 300 Suns' "Director of Happiness."

COLLISION

The name "Collision" has a dual meaning. The spacious brewpub was decorated with a vintage body shop theme, complete with old-fashioned gas pumps outside and car-related décor inside. But the beers they brew are also a "collision of flavors," with unique combinations that summon distant memories, awaken the senses, and inspire creativity. Don't miss the expansive patio with stunning mountain views.

DISCOVER COLORADO'S FRONT RANGE

Because Longmont is centrally located, it's the ideal starting point for exploring Colorado's majestic Front Range of the Rocky Mountains. Most of our favorite day-tripping destinations—including Rocky Mountain National Park, Boulder, and Lyons—are within an hour's drive, depending on traffic and weather. That means you can easily get back to Longmont in time for dinner and a stunning sunset over the mountains.

Find more destinations at VisitLongmont.org/things-to-do/day-trips.

► ROCKY MOUNTAIN NATIONAL PARK (RMNP) is the home of Longs Peak, our city's namesake mountain. It boasts 415 square miles of outdoor activities, including hiking, camping, and wildlife viewing any time of year, plus snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, and sledding in the winter. In the summer, drive along Trail Ridge Road, the highest, continuous paved road (more than 12,000 feet) in the U.S. Distance from Longmont: 35 miles.

► LYONS is a quaint little town with plenty of places to explore, learn, shop, eat, and drink. You'll also pass through it on your way to RMNP and Estes Park. In the summer, don't miss the Redstone Museum. Music lovers will enjoy the festivals at Planet Bluegrass. Distance from Longmont: 12 miles.

► NIWOT is Longmont's closest neighbor, with a small, easy-walking downtown filled with antique stores, galleries, and restaurants. Don't miss First Friday Art Walks and Rock & Rails summer concerts. Distance from Longmont: 7 miles

► BOULDER is the home of Pearl Street Mall, a vibrant, pedestrian-only outdoor mall in the heart of downtown with unique restaurants and shops, fun events, and a variety of street performers. The city also has museums, historic sites, scenic hiking, and the beautiful University of Colorado campus. Distance from Longmont: 16 miles.

► THE WILD ANIMAL SANCTUARY in Keenesburg is a huge, 720-acre facility that provides a loving home for large animals rescued from illegal or abusive situations. Resident animals include African lions, wolves, bears, tigers, and a camel. Distance from Longmont: 36 miles.

► FORT COLLINS has a downtown historic district featuring specialty shops and restaurants, plus hiking trails galore up at Horsetooth Mountain Open Space. It's also home to Colorado State University. Distance from Longmont: 30 miles.

► DENVER, the state's capital and largest city, has something for everyone, from museums and art galleries to children's activities and professional sports teams. Don't miss the gold-domed State Capitol Building, 16th Street Mall, Denver Museum of Nature & Science, Denver Botanic Garden, or Elitch Gardens Theme and Water Park. Distance from Longmont: 36 miles. ✱

Say “I Do” in Longmont

Longmont has quickly become a popular wedding destination, thanks to dozens of unique venue options and the picturesque Rocky Mountains as an awe-inspiring backdrop. Visit Longmont can connect you to the right hotels, venues, and services to help you plan your perfect wedding. Find more information at www.VisitLongmont.org/weddings.

DOWN ON THE FARM (OR ORCHARD)

Our area farms and orchards give you the feeling of being miles away from civilization, yet they're all conveniently located. These venues offer idyllic settings and fresh, farm-to-table cuisine to help make your day memorable.

STEEPED IN RICH HISTORY

Transport your guests back in time when you choose one of Longmont's historic, beautifully restored buildings that feature ornate finishes, original fixtures, and a glimpse of what it was like when things were simpler and life moved at a more leisurely pace.

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

Be bold. Be unique. Choose from surprising options like one of Longmont's scenic parks or beautiful churches, museums, or galleries, a “happening” brewery, or an industrial luxe venue. *

Host Your Next Event in Longmont

With a variety of options for flexible meeting and event space, Longmont is the ideal place to host your next event, large or small. We're centrally located along the Rocky Mountain Front Range, just 40 miles from Denver International Airport, so it's convenient for attendees to get here. We've also got plenty of activities and attractions to keep them busy during their free time. Visit Longmont offers complimentary event planning assistance. Find out more at www.VisitLongmont.org/groups-meetings. *

Many Longmont hotels offer meeting space and rooms for your attendees, all in one place.
