Introduction

And the winners are...

2019 was filled with optimism and seeing Idaho listed among the top “best” lists in recent years played a large role in that. Who knew what challenges 2020 would bring?

There is no question we are currently experiencing uncertain times and most businesses are navigating through uncharted waters. But I am continually reminded how strong and supportive the business community is in Idaho, and Reader Rankings is an example of that.

Now in its fourth year, Reader Rankings is a recognition program produced by the Idaho Business Review. The program consists of a two-phase process: the first round is a call for nominations, the second is a voting round. There were close to 600 companies nominated in 50 categories, all of which were voted on in the second round by readers of the Idaho Business Review.

Reader Rankings joins a list of already successful awards programs produced by the Idaho Business Review. Those programs include Women of the Year, CEO of Influence, Accomplished Under 40, ICON Awards, Top Projects, Excellence in Finance and Leaders in Law.

What makes Reader Rankings unique from other Idaho Business Review programs is you, the reader! Idaho is made up of passionate business owners who are proud to serve the community, and the community in turn shows support by casting their votes!

Thank you to the readers of the Idaho Business Review and all those who participated in the voting process, and congratulations to the winners of the 2020 Reader Rankings. You should be honored to be considered the best of the best by the Idaho business community!
