dental implant and wisdom teeth experts

Board Certified Oral & Facial Surgeons

An Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon (OMS) undergoes the longest and broadest surgical training of any dental specialist. Each of our physicians hold both a DDS and MD degree, having completed medical school as well. Because of their training in medicine and anesthesia, they can offer the full range of anesthesia options — everything from local anesthesia all the way to general anesthesia.

Kids are back
Plan ahead and get scheduled for fall / winter breaks!

This patient did not have their lower right impacted wisdom tooth removed and they developed a very large, destructive cyst in their right lower jaw.

The position of this partially impacted wisdom tooth led to difficulties with hygiene and deep decay in the patient's lower right wisdom tooth and lower right second molar.

This panoramic radiograph shows four impacted wisdom teeth which will require extraction.

Third Molars (Wisdom Teeth)

- Wisdom teeth are the most common teeth to be impacted (unable to come into mouth).
- Impacted wisdom teeth can sometimes damage or block neighboring teeth if left in place.
- Wisdom teeth can also be hard to clean, which often can lead to infections, dental decay and sometimes cyst formation.
- Usually it's ideal to have your wisdom teeth removed during the teenage years.
- Wisdom teeth are commonly removed by an Oral and Facial Surgeon under IV sedation or general anesthesia in an office setting. Most people return to school or work after 2 to 3 days.

It is important to discuss your wisdom teeth with your General Dentist and an Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon

HERE WE ARE AT THE START OF ANOTHER SCHOOL YEAR.

To say the least, this is a school year like no other and honestly, none of us knows what the next few days and months have in store for us.

Since our last issue, some things have changed and some things have stayed the same. We're still living in the days of social distancing and although many of us are trying to adapt to this new normal, I think it is only fair to say, this is just hard. If you're like me, I've realized this school year more than ever, how much I appreciate (and have missed) seeing my kids get up in the morning and have somewhere they need to be — something they need to do. It dawned on me when I drove by schools on the first day back for teachers, just how comforting it is to see cars in school parking lots. I know things are certainly not normal, but it was reassuring to see the effort of many in our community, doing what they could to get us back to what we know (and have missed).

I've personally been witness to some of the hardest working people these past few months and they are Davie County Schools employees. From adjusting to virtual school literally overnight, to planning for a new school year without knowing what they would be able to do until July — all of this while trying to maintain a safe environment for students and staff. Please know your efforts have not gone unnoticed and as a parent, I thank you.

This year, our family celebrates another senior year. Yes, our middle son is a proud member of the class of 2021 and we are excited to see what his future holds. Although this year is uncertain, I am committed to not letting a virus take away this special moment in his life as a student. To my son, I am proud of you and always remember, your family is here for you and will support your hopes, dreams and aspirations.

To all students and staff in Davie County — thank you for persevering through this crazy time and know that there are brighter days ahead.

Summer

Enrichment

BY JEANNA
BAXTER WHITE

School may have been out for the summer, but that doesn't mean that learning in Davie County ended. More than 180 rising kindergarteners through 5th graders attended summer programs funded by a $122,000 grant from the Mebane Foundation.

"Students missed months of face-to-face instruction this spring due to coronavirus restrictions and are heading into an uncertain school year this fall," said Larry Colbourne, president of the Foundation. "It was important to the Foundation to support enrichment opportunities to help reduce learning loss. Normally those funds supplement state funding for Davie's summer Read to Achieve Camp; but since the Department of Instruction canceled that requirement for this summer, the money was available to fund other programs."

Jennifer Lynde, DCS chief academic officer, appreciated the Foundation's flexibility. "We are in very difficult times that require us to adapt and make decisions, unlike any in the past. The support of the Mebane Foundation allows us to make decisions better aligned with the needs of children and not strictly funding."

Davie County Schools (DCS) reallocated the funds towards five-week summer enrichment camps for rising 1st through 5th graders at Cooleemee and Cornatzer, since they were the sites of the summer feeding program and kinder camps for rising kindergarteners at all six elementary schools.

Colbourne put her in touch with Imprints Cares in Winston-Salem, which offers kindergarten readiness programs for children ages birth to five and expanded learning programs, including summer enrichment day camps, for elementary school students. Since Imprints Cares already had a curriculum in place for its summer camps in Forsyth County as well as social distancing and cleaning protocols developed through offering crisis childcare, he thought they would be the perfect partner to operate an enrichment camp in Davie County.

DCS and Imprints Cares had only three weeks to prepare. DCS contacted the students and Imprints Cares provided all logistics including hiring, curriculum, before and after camp care, and day-to-day management.

Half of the day was devoted to academics — math, writing, reading, and phonics using Heggerty, a phonemic-awareness program that aligns with the science of reading. The other half focused on STEAM-based enrichment activities incorporating math, science, reasoning, and logic.

Additionally, campers enjoyed three onsite field trips: Birds of Prey from Allison Outdoor Wilderness Center, a robotics camp by Bricked where students assembled and maneuvered Lego-based remote-controlled cars, and an outdoor fun day complete with a drenching courtesy of the Cooleemee and Cornatzer fire departments.

"We wanted there to be social-emotional interaction, academics, and just some good old-fashioned summer camp fun," Shannon Heck, Imprint Cares director development and marketing explained.

Crystal Phillips, a 1st/2nd grade teacher's assistant at Pinebrook Elementary, taught the math component at Cornatzer. She considered the camp to be extremely valuable for the students who participated. "We all know that children tend to backslide in the summer months from one grade to the next. I feel these kids, and most of the others at home, have more so this year than prior summers because of the last quarter being taught remotely."

The kinder camps had a different set of goals — teaching rising kindergarteners how to social distance, wash their hands, treat others the way they would want to be treated, and most importantly become comfortable with the school setting.

"The purpose of kinder camp is to get the children acclimated to school," says kindergarten teacher Julie Holt, who led camp at Pinebrook Elementary. "They get the chance to learn to get along and to socialize which benefits them a lot. They also learn how to get around the school so that they aren't scared. We talk a lot about what the first day will be like so that they will be more comfortable with it. If they are more comfortable with it, their parents are going to be more comfortable with it."

"Although I do at least one academic activity each day, I focus more on getting them socially ready to enter the kindergarten world. If you can get them socially and behaviorally ready, the academic piece will come."

Holt told the students that each of them was special and unique and had their own name which was made up of letters. Pointing to a whiteboard bearing each name, she helped them count the letters, then they traced their names on paper using bingo daubers.

"Kinder camp gives us the opportunity to bond with our students and to instill in them the love of learning and a love for school. I think it is a fabulous thing that we can offer this camp and we appreciate it," she told Colbourne with a smile.

A MESSAGE FROM Davie County Manager, John Eller

As I prepare for my departure as your county manager, I want to thank those of you who welcomed me in Davie County. I would also like to thank the Board of County Commissioners for their support.

In my 3-1/2 years here, I have witnessed many positive things. Most recently, I was able to see the community come together to respond to COVID-19 and citizens impacted by it. Life has changed for all of us since March 2020. Businesses, families, and individuals will all remember the impact for years to come. This may replace the, "I used to walk miles, uphill, in the snow, barefoot" conversations that many of us have heard from those older than us. Now we have our own stories to tell.

Our work at the county government level could not be accomplished without vital partners in the community, including, but not limited to, our churches, foundations, volunteers, schools, non-profits, and businesses.

Reflecting over the past few months, here are a few notable accomplishments:

- I am especially grateful for our Davie County Government Staff, who have been willing to adjust to the changes made due to COVID-19 and who have continued to provide friendly and high quality service to our citizens.
- We continue to align and drive our strategic planning efforts and staff are committed to continuous improvement efforts to move the county forward.
- Efforts like Leadership Davie and IGNITE DAVIE will help promote future leadership and workforce development that are critical for future success.

- We are proud to roll out a new 911 Computer Aided Dispatch system to help replace a system that was at end-of-life.
- The Inspections team has rolled out an online permitting system to better service citizens.
- We have made tremendous progress with up-fitting our county facilities and programs, which will benefit the county for years to come.
- The Board of Elections has had a busy year preparing for the upcoming election by testing and adding new voting equipment to replace old machines.
- Emergency Services received the American Heart Association's Mission Lifeline Award Gold Plus recognition for outstanding cardiac care for the 6th straight year in a row. In addition, we began providing convalescent care service for non-emergency transportation for citizens in need of this service.
- Our Public Library is working on updating its strategic plan, and is looking forward to an expansion/renovation for a Youth Services area later this year.
- The Public Utilities team will complete the Northeast Davie Sewer Project. The county and Town of Mocksville are also partnering together on a Joint Utility Study that will yield needed upgrades to service the remainder of the county. Together, because of good foresight, these two projects will meet the water and sewer demands of the county for 80 plus years.
- Our Recreation and Parks team worked hard to get us to the grand opening of the new Davie County Community Park.

I want to thank all of the Davie County Government staff for the difference they make in the lives of this community. You may or may not see the results of their work directly, but they are there when you need them. They are unsung heroes. Sometimes the small things help brighten up one's day — a smile or kind word or an intentional generous action. Never underestimate the power of a simple "thank you" to those who serve daily.

John Eller

Sit and Stay Awhile AT THE STATION

Live music, laughter, food trucks, sno-cones and ice cream, beers and cider, dogs barking and candy wrappers crinkling — this is The Station on Main.

“We love Mocksville. We love the history and the people and the community, and downtown is such a cool spot. When this opportunity knocked and God opened the door we walked through. Bryan and I walked into this space and we just knew,” said owners, Bryan and Suzanne Lakey

This unique general store and tap room has given new life to Downtown Mocksville. It has provided a place for residents of all ages to go and have some family friendly fun. Offering live music events, trivia nights, and hosting a variety of food trucks, there's always something fun going on at The Station.

“I just love the fact that we offer a spot that is family-friendly, non-age specific, and pet-friendly. We have four girls, ages 15 down to 5. Having four girls, we wished we'd had somewhere like this to take them; somewhere that was family-friendly and good clean fun and a quick drive from the house. There just wasn't anywhere like that in Mocksville which is why we are so excited to bring that sort of vibe here to downtown. We wanted to create a place where mom and dad can get a beer, the kids can eat a sno-cone, and we can all enjoy being together.”

So, stop by The Station and fill up a bag of candy, get a soda in a glass bottle, enjoy a beer and make memories with family and friends (furry or not) in Downtown Mocksville.

Visit Downtown Mocksville for a glass-bottled soda, candy by the lb, 12 craft beers & cider on tap.

Virtual

BY KELLY HINES

Navigating this school year – whether you’re homeschooling, participating in the Davie County Schools Virtual Academy, or in the hybrid in-person/online Plan B – will be challenging for both parents and students. There are sure to be issues with technology and time management, but by following a few simple tips you can minimize frustrations and improve your child’s opportunities for success.

1. Create a dedicated at-home workspace. Some families are going all out on their virtual learning space, with color coordinated accessories and motivational posters. Whatever your home learning space looks like, make sure it is an area free from distractions (like the television or video games), comfortable, clear of clutter, and equipped with all the tools your child will need for the day. This includes fully charged devices, textbooks, calculators, notes and notebooks, and pencils and pens (yes, they still use those!).
2. Establish the ground rules. Virtual learning may be synchronous (real time teaching, like Zoom or Google Meet) or asynchronous (recorded lessons). Either way, students need a schedule and clear expectations. This is especially important if parents are working and students are getting help from neighborhood groups, outside learning facilitators, or are working on their own. Virtual learning takes discipline and motivation. By setting clear expectations and regularly checking in with your child, you can help them stay on track.

3. Take regular breaks. Sitting at a computer working for hours on end isn’t healthy for your body or your mind. Taking frequent, planned breaks for snacks, physical activity, and mental breaks are good for everyone.
4. Reach out. Teachers, administrators, and other families are there to help you and your child succeed. It is in everyone’s best interest that they do!
5. Stay positive. This may be the most difficult thing for all of us. Our children are looking for us to set the example. If we normalize mask wearing, it’s not such a big deal. If we are patient with technology, they will be, too. If we use the long car rider line to talk to our children, we’re making a connection instead of complaining about it taking too long.
6. Show grace. Teachers and administrators aren’t perfect, and they’re going to make mistakes. They’re going to do things that you don’t agree with, or not respond fast enough, or forget to email you back. Remember that many of them are trying to navigate virtual learning with their own children, as well. Your children aren’t perfect, either. There will be days when they won’t come out from under their desks or fuss and fight because they are just OVER IT. Lastly, give yourself some grace. Those cute color-coded folders may be in the trash by Halloween, and that’s okay. We’re all doing the best we can, and right now that’s good enough!

IGNITE DAVIE

is Sparking Futures!

Davie County is putting EDUCATION at the center of our community through the IGNITE DAVIE College Promise Program!

Davie County students now have the opportunity to continue their education without incurring student debt. All eligible high school graduates, regardless of financial need or academic ability, can continue their education and training to open the door to better career opportunities and increased earning potential.

"We are very proud of IGNITE DAVIE because it does put education at the very CENTER of our community by investing in the students of Davie County," said Carolyn McManamy, Director of Davie CONNECT.

Seventy-one students from the Class of 2020 are taking advantage of this program by continuing their education at Davidson County Community College this fall. IGNITE DAVIE is providing last dollar scholarships to pay tuition and fees with a stipend of up to $250 per semester for books for eligible students attending full time.

Students in the inaugural class of IGNITE DAVIE are studying in areas such as nursing, criminal justice, business management, welding and many are seeking their Associate's Degrees with the intent of going on to a 4-year college or university.

These students will give back to the Davie County community by volunteering five hours per semester in Davie County and participating in Career Connections. Through Career Connections, students will be matched with local businesses aligned with their course of study, giving students the opportunity to experience onsite learning and develop working relationships with local employers.

"These experiences will provide students with a direct career path upon completion of college and our employers will have a steady stream of trained workers who are already familiar with their business," said McManamy.

IGNITE DAVIE is playing an instrumental role in preparing students for their future careers and at the same time is saving these students and their parents thousands of dollars in tuition and fees.

"We are not only investing in our students but also in Davie County," McManamy said. "IGNITE DAVIE strengthens our workforce, improves high school graduation rates, attracts young families to move here, creates a competitive advantage for businesses and industries with a well-trained workforce, and increases the tax base leading to a better quality of life for everyone."

You can be part of the change that IGNITE DAVIE is sparking in the community by Committing to Our Kids. It will take true community-wide support to secure the dollars needed to endow the program for future generations of Davie students.

From the Superintendent

From all of us here at Davie County Schools, we thank you, your family and the entire community for the trust you have placed in us to provide an exceptional education to the children of Davie County in a safe and secure learning environment. We do not take that task lightly and appreciate your support and patience as we continue this journey together.

COVID-19 has presented many challenges in every industry across our country. Public schools have seen our fair share of challenges. As promised, our Board of Education and leadership team has been working hard to make decisions that are in the best interests of every student and staff member. Countless hours have produced thoughtful discussions, as we have considered anything and everything that needs to be done to keep students and staff safe, while still providing the educational development and the social and emotional support that all students need. Since March, our goal has been to get all children back in the classroom with face-to-face instruction. We also know how important it is to provide options so we can best meet the needs of every family in our school district. We are proud to have new educational offerings so we can make sure the 2020-2021 school year meets the needs of every family and student.

Much thought and care has gone into our planning and while school as we know it will look different, our "why" remains the same. We are here to love and protect every child in Davie County as we provide a safe and secure learning environment for each and every student. That is vital. We continue to pray for the safety and well-being of our entire DCS family and wish everyone much success as we enter a new school year.

Sincerely,
Jeff Wallace

A New Face at

United Way of Davie County

The United Way of Davie County has been a strong community pillar for 47 years, providing funding, building stronger communities, and advocating for the under-privileged and marginalized. The United Way and what it stands for is not a new organization, but there is someone new behind the scenes.

Chuck Taylor is a Winston Salem native and the new director of The United Way of Davie County. After pursuing a degree at Western Carolina for three years, being called into ministry, marrying the love of his life and having five children, Chuck and his family now call Davie County home. "We love our home on Main Street in Mocksville. We love our community, and we can't think of a better place to live."

It was 2007 when Taylor was first introduced to the United Way. He was the director at Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Davie County, a United Way partner agency. Since then,

"As the new director to United Way, I have a lot of work to do to help you believe in me and our mission. Choosing where to invest your money isn't always an easy choice, and people want their money to do the most good. I am available to answer questions anyone has before they donate even the smallest amount."

CHUCK TAYLOR

Taylor has become an integral part of this community organization. He has advocated for the ways that the United Way helps partner agencies provide quality services, assisted with campaign presentations, strategic planning, and has served on the Community Investment Council for three years.

Like everyone else, the United Way is adapting to doing things differently. The United Way is switching to a completely virtual presentation plan, creating a new website, and working with partner agencies to tell their stories through short video series. "We are continually evolving, and we are committed to providing the easiest way for employers and employees to give to their neighbors," said Taylor.

"We are streamlining our grant request process, maximizing our communication practices, and developing robust marketing strategies. When people at fast food restaurants, retail stores, medical offices, and county organizations are working hard to help keep our county moving, we owe it to them to do the same."

The United Way of Davie County is continually grateful for the donors who are generously giving during an uncertain time. These investments strengthen our community "so that Davie County, as a whole, emerges from this pandemic better and stronger."

Chuck Taylor, his wife LeeAnn and their five children.

Taylor encourages Davie County residents to say thank you to those on the front lines in our community. "With all the political stress of this year upon us, we can easily lose sight of those serving every day to keep our world moving as usual. The best service we can offer is a kind word, an act of graciousness, a note of gratitude, and a moment of encouragement," he said.

For those who are willing and able, Taylor says donating can make a huge impact within our community. "Consider giving 10% of your income to the churches, agencies, and services you believe in. Imagine the problems we could eradicate if everyone would generously give to help our community."

"If you are unsure of where to give, the United Way stands ready to ensure your gifts are directed to the agencies who are committed to serving the vulnerable in our community."

Working Together

A College Promise Program

Built on 45 acres with a broad coalition of support — including the Town of Mocksville, Davie County, local businesses, county citizens, and the state — the Davie Campus of DCCC opened in 1994 with a mission to provide convenient, career-focused education.

By its 10th anniversary, the Davie Campus featured three buildings and an emergency services training facility. In 2008, the Davie Education Center opened in Bermuda Run. A major expansion project in early 2009 added 8,500 square feet of new space. The first floor of the Community Building was renovated to house a modern library. Another major renovation of the Gantt Building was completed in Fall 2012 to house the Davie County Early College High School. And through a partnership with Wake Forest Baptist Health and Davie County, DCCC for several years used the former Davie County Hospital for new programs in the health sciences. Such partnerships with health care providers across DCCC's service area allow the College to continue to expand how it prepares health care workers for a rapidly-changing landscape.

The Davie Campus is here to meet the needs of students interested in a variety of educational pathways and career fields, including the following:

Academic Programs	Continuing Education
• Associate in Arts	• Inspections
• Career and College Promise Pathways	• Notary
• Central Sterile Processing	• Machining
• Surgical Technology	• OSHA
• Practical Nurse Education	• Welding
• Truck Driving Training	• EMS/Fire/Rescue
• Welding	• Personal Interests

Don't Sleep on
Meg Brown's Sleep
Shop and Outlet:

There's Something for Everyone

Filling your home with beautiful pieces has never been easier than with Meg Brown Home Furnishings.

Davin Brown grew up in the furniture business and Megan Brown was an interior designer in High Point before they decided to join forces and use their combined skill sets to open a furniture store. Opening the doors to Meg Brown Home Furnishings in 2006 was just the start; they began with the goal of "being a store with great style, value and customer service". They have certainly achieved this and continue to expand, touching rugs, fabrics, draperies, gifts, and now even The Sleep Shop.

The Sleep Shop

The Sleep Shop will offer customers a larger selection of mattresses and adjustable bases from the best brands at great prices. Davin and Megan "started thinking about how many local customers drive right by [their] store on the way to a mattress store because they think they'll get a better deal, selection or simply don't know Meg Brown is in the mattress business". So, they've added The Sleep Shop in order to dedicate a large space with most major brands, "so that we could keep some of that business in Davie County".

In here you'll find most major brands and a selection of Tempur-Pedic, Sealy, Serta, and Stearns & Foster. "We have everything from a $399 queen mattress to higher-end luxury mattresses," said Davin Brown. Additionally, customers can find affordable motion bases, some with the Zero Gravity feature.

After hearing that some people thought the store wouldn't have affordable options, Davin and Megan began considering more ways to reach new customers. "Usually, customers are pleasantly surprised by our prices," Davin said, "but we have to find a way to get them through the door."

The Outlet

In The Outlet, you'll find factory closeouts and market samples mixed throughout. With sofas starting at $599, chairs and recliners starting at $329, bar stools starting at $79, bedroom suits and fabric headboards for $349 and dining room sets, there's something here for every room of your house at an affordable price.

If your home is missing a piece of furniture, an accent decor piece, a beautiful rug or just the one thing that can bring the whole room together, you can find it at Meg Brown Home Furnishings. And you can rest well on a brand new mattress from The Sleep Shop knowing that it comes from a local store you can trust.

"Our county and our community has supported us from day one and that has not changed. We appreciate everyone's support for local businesses during these times."

existing business and industry in Davie County. Program resources support training needs assessment, instructional design, development and delivery. DCCC partners with local businesses and industries to offer apprenticeships to meet the workforce needs of Davie County. College and Career Readiness provides programs and services to help students earn a high school credential, refresh their basic skills for college or career advancement, or learn English for speakers of other languages.

IGNITE DAVIE

Beginning in Fall 2020, the first students to benefit from a unique community program called IGNITE DAVIE will begin their college educations. This inaugural group of graduating high school students from Davie County is receiving tuition assistance to cover the amount remaining after other financial aid is applied.

As high student debt continues to be a worrisome national issue, IGNITE DAVIE makes it possible for students to attend DCCC at virtually no cost. The guiding mission of the program is to increase over-all educational attainment in Davie County.

"We've arrived at a point where having college experience is a basic requirement for being competitive in the workforce," says Susan Burleson, VP, Davie Campuses and Institutional Effectiveness. "Companies want people who have skills and training so they can hire them with confidence and know they're capable, focused, and ready to contribute."

IGNITE DAVIE is open to eligible high school graduates from Davie County and offers the chance to pursue a 2-year degree without having to stress over the typical budgeting challenges that usually accompany higher education.

Funded by a public-private collaboration, IGNITE DAVIE aims to make a positive difference in the lives of young people while strengthening the local economy. The program is designed to provide broad education and 21st century career training that will gradually build a dependable pipeline of skilled workers in Davie County. Over time, the expected results are an increased tax base, higher standard of living, and a reduced need for public assistance programs.

"We're doing this to enhance economic mobility for future generations in our community," says Burleson. "We want to promote our area as an all-around supportive place where you can get an education, find a good job, raise a family, and grow a business."

Keeping the Community Safe and COVID-19 Protected

As Davie Medical Center and Wake Forest Baptist Health as a whole have increased the number of surgeries, procedures and outpatient clinic visits across the entire health system, patients and families have likely noticed some changes designed to help maintain a safe environment for all.

“When the protocol was to shelter in place, that kept our volumes low at Davie Medical Center. This gave staff the extra time needed to prepare and get measures in place to make sure staff and patients are safe and COVID-Protected,” said Matt Cline, M.D., Chief Medical Officer at Davie Medical Center.

In-person visits have resumed, but telephone, virtual and e-visits are still offered.

“Virtual visits may remain the best option for some, but we know there are health conditions that need to be addressed and treated in person. A lot of our patients have been waiting on surgeries that increase their quality of life like joint replacement surgery. COVID-19 has changed the way we operate but we hope the community can appreciate all that we have done to make to make sure they are protected,” Cline said.

“COVID-19 has made a lot of people across the country scared to come to hospitals. Here at Davie Medical Center, we saw a dramatic drop in the amount of people we were treating in the Emergency Department and that was concerning to us because we know there are people out there having heart attacks, strokes and other issues that need emergent attention. We’ve gradually started seeing more people come in but unfortunately, many are coming in later than they should have. We know in those situations, the earlier we can treat a patient, the better.”

“We want to urge those in our community to not delay receiving the care that they need and to have the peace of mind that Davie Medical Center is doing everything we can to keep patients and staff safe.”

Some of the changes that have been made include:

- Practicing social distancing in all of our clinic locations
- Minimizing wait times in common areas, like waiting rooms
- Asking our patients to join all providers and clinic staff in wearing masks
- Limiting visitors, with few exceptions
- Cleaning our facilities with strict sanitation protocols
- Conducting screenings for COVID-19 symptoms upon arrival
- Offering expanded access to virtual visits via video or telephone
- Staffing Respiratory Assessment Clinics for patients with COVID-19 or flu-like symptoms

“Beyond these measures, we are really trying to go the extra mile for our patients during this stressful time,” Cline said.

“We have negative pressure rooms that help circulate air out of the department and away from staff and patients. These special rooms have multiple sections so a provider can go in the first room and close the door before entering the main room with the patient. Within these rooms, we have also added UV lights that can help kill airborne viruses. We’re also promoting good hand hygiene for patients and staff to prevent the transmission of COVID-19 and other illnesses.”

“Davie Medical Center staff is doing all we can to keep those who visit our hospital and those in the community safe and COVID-Protected.”

Patients who need to schedule an in-person or virtual appointment can call 336-716-WAKE. Wake Forest Baptist’s COVID-19 hotline is available to serve those without a primary care provider at 336-70-COVID. To learn more about Wake Forest Baptist’s care options, please visit wakehealth.edu/getcare.

From our Mayor

As Mayor for Bermuda Run, I remain optimistic about the future of our Town and the greater Davie County community. Despite all the issues surrounding the current COVID-19 pandemic, I see the resiliency of our local business community. New restaurants, business expansions, new ways to do business...these are but few of the shining examples that make our town and county a great place to live, work, and play.

The Town of Bermuda Run remains committed to purposeful and meaningful growth as outlined in our Comprehensive Plan. We also invest in our partnerships for the greater good by becoming a member of the Davie County Economic Development Commission and by committing to a five year contribution to fund Ignite Davie.

Each of us has had to adapt our approach to life and work as a result of COVID-19. As you look at this list of businesses that serve our community, please continue to give them your full support.

Mayor Rick Cross

Offering inspired Dental Care to Davie County

It's always important to take care of your teeth. Brushing and flossing at home are a good way to start, but professional dental support, regular checkups and cleanings are the keys to maintaining a beautiful and healthy smile for years to come.

That's where Inspira Dental Care really shines; offering "inspired" dental care for the Mocksville community. Dr. Nicole Wright, founder of both Inspira Dental Care and Winston-Salem Periodontics, proudly operates a practice that is dedicated to providing state-of-the-art dental care in a safe, comfortable and friendly environment.

Inspira Dental Care treats people, not patients, who can rest easy knowing they're receiving care of the highest quality each and every visit, whatever nature of work they need done. From cleanings and restorations to cosmetic treatments to get the smile of your dreams — Dr. Wright, Dr. Panda, and the team at Inspira do it all.

But what about specialty care like Periodontics or Invisalign? Yes — Inspira has that covered too by offering both general and many specialty dental services all under one roof by experts who truly care. In fact, Inspira is the only practice where you'll find Periodontic services in Mocksville!

With the current COVID-19 situation, it's more vital than ever for healthcare providers of all kinds to exceed safety standards to ensure safety of patients and staff. Since the pandemic began, Inspira was working diligently to create and execute a set of new safety protocols in order to continue to care for those who need dental care in a safe and caring environment.

When visiting Inspira, you'll find these protocols still in place for your safety and the safety of the staff and fellow patients. This includes pre-appointment screenings, temperature checks upon arrival, limited use of the office's waiting room and required PPE for all staff at all times. You'll also find isolated treatment rooms designed to contain aerosols, plus additional exhaust vents in every treatment room, and a UV purification system for the building's airspace. Needless to say the dental experience is different today than it was a year ago — but it's all because your safety is most important!

No matter how much we describe it, there's only one way to truly immerse yourself in the Inspira Dental Care experience — go visit for yourself! Tell them we sent you, we know you won't be disappointed!

Local Law Firm Ready to Roll Up Their Sleeves and Get to Work

In the heart of downtown Mocksville, you will find a strong and capable network of lawyers ready and willing to hear your case and help you with whatever situation you are facing. Among this network of law professionals is Wendy Terry, the managing partner at the Mocksville office of Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP (formerly the office of Terry Law PLLC).

Wendy has been in practice since 1997, and for 12 of those years she served as an Assistant District Attorney in Davie and Davidson Counties. Mrs. Terry began private practice in 2018 focusing on criminal, family, and juvenile law. For the past three years, she has been the attorney for the Dragonfly House Children's Advocacy Center of Mocksville. Wendy also currently serves as the President for the District Bar.

As of January 1st, Terry Law PLLC merged with Penry & Mitchell, PLLC in Lexington to form Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP (PTM). Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP is the first all female firm of any size in the local area.

Phyllis Penry, of counsel to Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP, was the first female attorney in the area and blazed the path for women in this judicial district. Phyllis is a lifelong resident of Davidson County and was admitted to the bar in 1975. In addition to private practice, Mrs. Penry has spent time as an Assistant District Attorney in Davidson County as well as serving as the attorney for the City of Lexington.

Dawn Mitchell is the managing partner of the Lexington office. Dawn first served as a certified paralegal for Phyllis Penry before deciding to pursue her own legal career. Ms. Mitchell was admitted to the bar in 2014 and has been practicing in Lexington ever since with an extensive background in family law. Dawn recently earned her mediator certification and plans to begin mediating family law cases in the near future.

Victoria Prince serves as an associate attorney at Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP in their Lexington office. Victoria is a recent graduate of the Elon University School of Law and focuses on family law. During her time at Elon University, Ms. Prince volunteered in their Elder Law Clinic and was president of the Elder Law Society. She also reactivated their Criminal Law Society and served as president and additionally served as Chair of the Honor Counsel.

As well as being proud of their all-female slate of attorneys, the partners of PTM believe in the elevation of future generations of women. Ayana Banks, a UNC-Chapel Hill graduate and the office manager at Terry Law, PLLC from 2018 until last month, just started classes at the Elon University School of Law where she is a scholarship recipient. Should Ms. Banks elect to return to Davie County after her legal education, she would be the only African American female practicing in the county. Mrs. Terry describes Ms. Banks as "particularly bright and caring with unlimited potential". In addition to Ms. Banks, Allison Staley Quigley a recent honors graduate at Appalachian State University and former intern at the office, is attending law school this fall at the UNC-Chapel Hill. Allison, a Davie County native, previously served as an intern for the Forsyth County District Attorney's Office and the Dragonfly Children's Advocacy Center. "Allison has the capacity to be a shining star in the legal community and an unstoppable force for good" said Terry.

Community involvement is important to both the partners and staff at Penry Terry & Mitchell LLP. Wendy offers pro-bono services to Family Promise of Davie County, is on the board of Smart Start of Davie County, and along with her husband, serves as the coach for the mock trial team at Davie County High School. Phyllis has been involved with numerous community organizations including serving as chairman for the Board of Trustees for Davidson County Community College and a board member of Domestic Violence Services. Mrs. Penry currently serves as a member of the Charity League in Davidson County and board

making

BIG IMPACTS

in the community with the help of the

DCCC Small Business Center

Small businesses are the backbone of our community and the DCCC Small Business Center is there to support our small businesses in every phase of development and circumstance, even through a global pandemic.

"This is a great time for businesses to contact the DCCC SBC," said Martha Larson, DCCC SBC Director. "Small Business Centers have been given extra funding to help small businesses in more impactful ways. Not only are we maintaining a COVID-19 resource page through the SBC website but the SBC can pay for professional services that are much needed to allow businesses to sustain through this pandemic or even to grow."

The DCCC SBC supports local businesses through referrals, business education, and one-on-one counseling. These services provided by the DCCC SBC are free to Davidson and Davie county clients. Clients can be existing business owners and those who are considering a start-up.

"Opening a small business may seem easy but sustaining a successful business can be very difficult. Planning is key," added Larson. Whether your business has been around for generations or if the idea is just forming into your head, you can benefit from the expertise at the DCCC SBC.

"It is never too late to examine business operations and to make adjustments, or add new things," Larson said. "If the last six months has taught us anything, we have learned that our day-to-day functions need to shift and adjustments in many areas need to be made."

As if owning and operating a business were not already difficult enough, when you add in an unknown force like COVID-19, it makes every day significantly more difficult and every decision significantly more important.

Navigating COVID-19 with the Help of DCCC SBC

With the assistance of the Pandemic Recovery Counseling Fund, the DCCC SBC can pay for specialized services, assess the business' needs and fund business coaching, accounting and legal services, consultations on insurance, marketing, website development and other specific needs through the end of 2020. "We have already seen great results, and we are eager to discuss how these funds may help you and your business," Larson said.

Get Professional Assistance

If you're looking for help with your business but don't know where to turn, especially in these uncertain times, you can come to the DCCC SBC no matter the stage of your business.

Martha was recently appointed as the Small Business Center Network Piedmont Triad Regional Director. As the Regional Director, Martha will not only influence support locally but will be a part of the network's leadership, helping to strategize small business assistance statewide.

You can count on the team at the DCCC SBC to provide professional expertise, meet you where you are and help you achieve your goals. You can reach Martha Larson at 336-224-4557 or email at mlarson8181@davidsonccc.edu.

member for The Dragonfly House Children's Advocacy Center. Dawn serves as a board member of the Davidson County Board of Elections in the position of board secretary. Ms. Mitchell along with Mrs. Terry values giving back to the legal profession via organizing local continuing legal education events and speaking at state continuing legal education programs.

When you find yourself in a time of need, you can trust your situation in the hands of these brilliant and understanding women. "I think every attorney brings their life experience into practice with them, and I have been on the receiving end of great kindness and of cruelty — it's those life experiences that make us want to help people, advocate for them and lift them up in the process. Where we excel at our firm is being human beings. We try to empathize with our clients and make what can be a painful process easier," Wendy said.

Make the time to set up a consultation and find out how these women can help — they are ready to roll up their sleeves and immediately get to work.
