HOLIDAY MUSIC

Holiday fanfare with retro flair

With dozens of performers, Christmas in My Home Town, which summons memories of classic TV holiday shows, returns Nov. 26 to the Vacaville Performing Arts Theatre

By Richard Bammer

rbammer@the reporter.com

The smell of roasted chestnuts and mulled cider. Holly wreaths with ribbons and fir trees tied to car rooftops. Flashing lights hung on homes and holiday music piped from decorated storefronts.

The trappings of Christmas are seeping into our collective consciousness once again — certainly the TV ads are underway weeks before the turkey and steaming sweet potatoes, topped with marshmallows, land on dining room tables — but it is holiday music and the warm feelings and remembrances they come with that are a hallmark of the season.

From "It's the Most Wonderful Time of Year" and "Holly Jolly Christmas" to "O Holy Night" and "White Christmas," pop tunes to traditional carols, music seems to define the spirit of Christmas and bring light into the world as the days grow shorter in the Northern Hemisphere.

For many of us, the seasonal music comes freighted with memories of home, and, for those of a certain age, yesteryear TV specials with Andy Williams, Bob Hope, Perry Como and others, when there were only three major network channels.

And it is such low-key holiday fanfare with a retro flair that has long defined the annual Christmas in My Hometown show at the Vacaville Performing Arts Theatre, with the 2022 edition set for Nov. 26.

Since its debut in 2006, the show "has become a wonderful holiday tradition" in Vacaville, said the show's executive producer, Ron George, who recalled the holiday TV specials from the 1950s, '60s and '70s, when celebrities such as Williams would be joined by their families in "a cozy front room setting."

In an email and a brief telephone interview Tuesday, the 77-year-old George, a retired musician who made a living on the Reno-Tahoe lounge circuit, was unsure why such shows are no longer common TV fare.

"The success of the Hallmark Channel" proves that the public wants more of them, said the El Sobrante native, who will lead dozens of singers, musicians and dancers during the Saturday evening event at the city-owned theater on Ulatis Drive.

Joining George onstage this year will be a familiar cast, among them vocalist Emily Jessen, Zach and Aaron George, Jaina Benton, The Will C. Wood Musician and producer Ron George (center), seen with guitarist and grandson Zach George and the Dixon Dance Company in the background during last year's Christmas in My Hometown show, return for the show's 17th edition at 7 p.m. Nov. 26 in the Vacaville Performing Arts Theatre in Vacaville.

Musician and producer Ron George (in the white jacket) and dozens of other musicians and singers comprise the cast of the Christmas in My Hometown show, which returns for its 17th edition at 7 p.m. Nov. 26 in the Vacaville Performing Arts Theatre in Vacaville.

Sylvan Singers and The Tintinabulus Hand Bell Choir, The Will C. Wood Bell Quire, Christina Jacklin, The Dixon Dancers, vocalist Kim Bosler, Alina's Music Studio Ensemble, Violin Empiriani, Mike Williams along with, Jack Bryant, Mahalia Lafranco, Christian Valadez, Kali Benton and Sesar Murillo.

A guitarist and singer, George said plans for the annual show start in July, with the building of the set, learning songs, adding new props, all of it an effort to "outdo our last performance," he said.

No surprise, the production, since Day 1, has been a family affair, he said.

His wife, Sharon, helps to organize adjunct events to raise money for music programs in Vacaville Unified schools. Their son, Doug, and wife Julie, along with daughter Rhonda and her husband, George, help setting up and dismantling the set and also pitch in to prepare food for the cast members.

His grandchildren — Zach, Aaron, Megan, and "adopted granddaughter" Jessen — "not only perform in every show they also work side by side with us to bring the best show possible to our community," he wrote, calling the show "a labor of love" for all involved.

Naturally, the show has evolved over the years, starting out 17 years ago with a handful of people, including vocalists Bob Green and Eddy K. Ka'anoi and the George's grandchildren. Since then, add "hundreds," with the addition of The Dixon Dancers, Cooper Chorus, Vacaville High Chorus, Alamo Chorus, the Will C. Wood Sylvan Singers and the Honeybee Trio.

"Each show is different, with the different acts changing each year," he added.

Do you plan any surprises, any special guests?

Well, given the state of the world this may be one: The Wood High Bell Quire will perform the "Carol of the Bells," aka the "Ukrainian Bell Carol," a choral miniature work composed by Mykola Dmytrovych Leontovych and is based on an ancient pagan Ukrainian New Year's chant known in Ukrainian as "Shchedryk" (The Generous One).

"Yes, there is always something new and different and this year we have a couple of fun surprises," said George, who also will lead the Big Band Christmas show at 3 p.m. Nov. 27 in VPAT, a show, with a 17-piece orchestra, featuring holiday favorites from Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Dean Martin, Judy Garland, Michael Buble, among others.

Kevin Costner says 'Yellowstone' is a hit on own terms

By Lynn Elber

The Associated Press

healthy slice of America awaited Sunday's return of the hit series "Yellowstone," star Kevin Costner was in Moab, Utah, scouting locations for yet another Western epic, "Horizon."

credits, among them "Field of Dreams," "The Bodyguard," "JFK" and "Bull Durham," are an eclectic mix of dramas, baseballcentric tales and the occasional comedy. But the West's history and land have proven his creative bedrock.

His breakout role came in 1985's "Silverado," followed by starring roles in you think it could work? "Dances with Wolves," his Oscar-winning directorial debut; "Wyatt Earp," and "Open Range," which he in that this work is still also directed. He's donning the actor-director Stetson again for "Horizon," planned as a four-film saga about pre- and post-Civil War western migration.

The Paramount Network's contemporary "Yellowstone," created by Taylor Sheridan ("Hell or High Water"), already has generated a successful prequel, "1883." A second, "1923" (formerly titled "1932"), with Harrison Ford and Helen Mirren and rivers captured peoas its headliners, is set for a ple's imagination. But it's Dec. 18 release.

In its fifth season, "Yellowstone" opens with Costner's Montana rancher John Dutton awaiting the outcome of his reluctant run for governor - a big-swing effort to shield his family's vast land and business he's seeking power and against challenges from there's more than a sugdevelopers and empowered gestion he intends to use it to the characters?

Native Americans.

Dutton's populist-style campaign promised to LOS ANGELES » While a safeguard Montana values, or likely those that dovetail with the interests he's gone to extremes to protect. Would Costner himself consider seeking office? "No, I don't think so," he said.

In an interview with The Costner's 60-some film Associated Press, he discussed why "Yellowstone" has gained a following, the series' portrayal of Native Americans, and his longheld regard for the Western genre done right. Remarks have been edited for brevity and clarity.

> When you joined Taylor Sheridan on the drama series, what made

A I thought it had a chance to be relevant, going on in America and most people kind of take it for granted how stuff ends up at their dinner table. We intuitively know, and we don't really know. The show is able to highlight at times the beauty of ranching, and it certainly talks about how difficult it is. We're set in one of the most beautiful places in the world, and I think the idea of mountains a working ranch. It's how it's still done. I think it spoke well of that, with its kind of heightened sense of drama.

While John Dutton says he's no politician, for his own ends. How do you see the character?

A He's not naive. He's no politician in the sense that he wants to collaborate. I think he's capable of hearing the best idea, but he's not looking for middle ground. It's not how he's conducted his life. What's maybe good for his ranch might be good for all the rest of the ranches in Montana as well — the preservation of a way of life, less expansion. His ranch is highlighted, he says it out loud. But I think he sees this working for other ranchers.

'Yellowstone' prominently includes Native Americans, as did 'Dances with Wolves.' How do you view the series approach

A I think they show it's all complicated. For them, everything has been stripped away, and they've had this little niche called gambling and even that's being nibbled at, being pawed over. Anytime there's money, there's going to be disputes no matter what culture you're dealing with. So you see power plays inside the Native American community. You see ambition, you see selfishness. It's really normal behavior. We might flinch at it, we might be embarrassed by it, but it exists on all levels. The political machinations of what happens on the rez (reservation) are equal to what happens on our national stage. There's bitterness, there's resentment. There's good ideas, there's bad ideas. So who gets left speaking, it's the people.

The series received a Screen Actors Guild nomination for best ensemble drama but has been largely overlooked by the Emmys. Could that reflect a bias against West-

I'm not sure, because we're a very verbal show. We're not reduced to 'yep' and 'nope.' It's very literate in its expression. You can be minimalized, you can be marginalized, you can be ignored. But we've been able to create a show that didn't start out being popular but did it on its own terms.

You've said that watching the 1962 movie 'How the West Was Won' as a youngster made you a fan of the Western. What chord did it strike and why does the genre continue to resonate with vou?

When it's done well, A you realize how vulnerable (people) were. We see freeways and cities now, but if you roll back about 120 years, you were out here by yourself. How you made it or didn't would depend sometimes on your decisions and most of the time on just luck. There was no law, there was no army, we were taking away land from people that have lived there for thousands of years. I think to myself, 'My God, what made people keep coming West?' They sometimes didn't share the same language, they were from different countries in Europe. When I see it in its rawest form, I'm inspired by it, I'm in awe of it. I realize that what made people cross the country was nothing but hope of something better than where they came from.

Chemistry that emerged in 'Dr. Quinn' stands the test of time for Seymour, Lando

By Luaine Lee

Tribune News Service

Though it's been 21 years since actors Jane Seymour and Joe Lando costarred on the drama series "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman," they're back together and say it's like they've never been away.

The two have remained best friends since they tamed the Wild West in "Dr. Quinn" in the late '90s. And they find themselves paired again for a classic Christmas movie, "A Christmas Spark," premiering on Lifetime Nov. 27. Eight years script she says she didn't ago they reunited in a comic bit for "Funny or Die," but since then they have gone their separate ways. think of Lando as a costar. "I thought, 'Joe's my best friend.' And I didn't think

"I just thought, 'I wonder what he thinks about what I'm about to do?' And he read it, and he said, 'Well, Jane, you're going to have Seymour is shooting her so much fun on this one this is one of the best Lifetime movies I've ever read.' Then somebody got a really good idea and thought of offering it to Joe. And I'm so grateful."

> ourselves at times," adds Lando. "And that's what I really clicked down to this one and loved about it. And I think Jane felt the same along, Seymour says she way. We used some of our 'chemistry," he says.

> That chemistry is something indefinable, insists Lando. "Chemistry is something that you can't manufacture and you can't go, 'Oh, that person looks like they'd be great with that lost my homes, everything," person. ... It happens. And she recalls. So I totally unit's happened with Jane. derstand people now who And I've had that opportunity with just a couple other people in my career. and we're reasonably inseparable. Joe and his familv are always at my house. a series, but in case it does, We are an entwined family and I — we all get along really well. There's just a chemistry. We have it and hopefully we always will and we're also best friends. And there's an excitement because you can act without a safety net because you know you can throw something out there and he'll catch it, or I'll catch it, and we'll play with it."

Seymour is thrilled with the variety of offers that keep rolling her way. "I love acting and I've been getting the most amazing roles. ... I think because I'm not trying to be an ingenue or very young or any of that - I can play my age to 85 and comedy and drama. "I knew we could just be I love working and am so grateful to have such beautiful quality work and work with such great people."

> When "Dr. Quinn" came was in dire straits. Her ex had been her manager and she found herself in financial limbo. "I thought I was going to have to be bankrupt and really lost all sense of self-esteem and everything. I lost everything — I are losing their homes to the banks because I was THERE. It's devastating."

It was "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman" that saved her. "I literally called my Seymour recalls, "I re- agent and said, 'I need to on a horse."

worked on 'Dr. Quinn' and 'OK. That's interesting.' So he said, 'Anything?' I said, 'Anything.'

"So he called all the networks and said, 'Jane will do anything, but she's got to do it NOW.' And CBS said, 'We've "And it's 32 years later, got this movie called "Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman," we don't think it'll make it as we need her to sign for five - Joe and (his wife) Kirsten years. She has to start tomorrow morning at 5 a.m.'

"That was it. I signed for a five-year deal with the understanding that it was never going to happen because it was a little movie they didn't believe in anyway. I thought it was a beautiful script and loved the character. And 180 hours of 'Dr. Quinn' later, that's when we quit."

So what are the chances of another "Dr. Quinn" as a movie or limited series? "I would only do another 'Dr. Quinn' if it was going to be as good if not better," says Seymour. "It's got to be something really, really special, and I'm not quite sure how that happens. Also at the moment we haven't found anyone who actually wants it so"

"I think Jane and I and a few other folks would be very on board if we found the script," adds Lando. "And sadly the town we shot in burned down a couple years ago - completely to the ground — so it would be like starting new. Whatever we came up with would have to be something very different from what we saw before, but still keep the same parts and maybe I'd like to see these people get together and bond with one another in something that's really inspirational. Hopefully that will come together soon; I still have to be able to jump

Shemar Moore stars in "S.W.A.T."

13 MINUTES

sноw 4:10 р.т.

Four families seek out safety at all costs when a massive, landscape-changing tornado makes landfall in this disaster drama from director Lindsay Gossling. Amy Smart, Thora Birch, Paz Vega and the late Anne Heche star as the women in the heartland town.

CHRISTMAS IN CONNECTICUT

тсм 5:00 р.т.

A chic magazine writer is forced to have her boss and a war veteran over for a family Christmas dinner at her home in Connecticut. The only problem is she does not live in Connecticut, has never cooked a meal before and does not have a husband.

S.W.A.T.

13 KOVR 7:00 p.m.

Former marine Daniel "Hondo" Harrelson (Shemar Moore) leads a specialized tactical unit in Los Angeles while attempting to bridge the gap between the place he grew up and his team in blue. Alex Russell and Amy Farrington also star in this hit drama.

Ross Marquand stars in "The Walking Dead"

THE WALKING DEAD амс 8:30 p.m. 9:00 p.m.

The series finale of this epic survival saga airs this evening. Based on the comic books series of the same name by Robert Kirkman, Tony Moore and Charlie Adlard, it focuses on the lives of a group of survivors engaged in a zombie apocalypse.

HOLIDAY WARS FOOD 9:00 p.m.

Jeff Mauro challenges the five remaining teams to create a woodland creature who is throwing an ugly sweater party for all his forest friends. At the end of the round, judges Shinmin Li and Aarti Sequiera need to choose one more team to send home.

ANGEL HAS FALLEN

SYFY 9:30 p.m.

United States Secret Service agent Mike Banning (Gerard Butler) is forced to go on the run after he is framed and accused of plotting to assassinate the president (Morgan Freeman). Directed by Ric Roman Waugh, this action film also stars Nick Nolte.

STARS ON SCREEN

Welcome to The Arconia: Jesse Williams boards 'Only Murders in the Building'

By Michelle Rose

TVMedia

WELCOME TO THE ARCONIA»

Former "Grey's Anatomy" star Jesse Williams has been officially added to the Season 3 cast of "Only Murders in the Building." Hulu's Emmy-winning murder mystery series, which stars Steve Martin ("Father of the Bride," 1991), Martin Short ("Three Amigos!," 1986) and Selena Gomez ("Selena + Chef"), was renewed for a third season in July, shortly after Season 2 premiered, and the season finale's cliff-hanger ending set the stage for a new mystery to unravel once the show returns.

Williams will have a recurring role in Season 3 as a documentarian with an interest in Charles (Martin), Oliver (Short) and Mabel's (Gomez's) latest investigation. Paul Rudd ("Ant-Man," 2015) will also star in the new season, though it's not clear if he's onboard as a series regular or a recurring guest star.

"Paul Rudd, after making an auspicious entrance into the world of our show at the end of Season 2 as Ben Glenroy, is someone we clearly want to know more about and see in our upcoming Season 3," series co-creator John Hoffman said. "[H]e is a clear source show, many twists yet to come."

Rudd's involvement with Building" reunites him with Gomez, his co-star in the 2016 Netflix film "The Fundamentals of Carpoised to be a big year for Wasp: Quantumania" is from Fox this past June.

"Animal Control" is an important project for Fox: it's the network's first wholly owned live-action comedy. Produced by Fox Entertainment Studios, the show is expected to have a midseason debut.

BACK TO CRYSTAL LAKE»

Horror movie fans rejoice, because Peacock is launching a "Friday the 13th" prequel series.

The streamer recently handed the project, currently titled "Crystal Lake," a straight-to-series order. It's being described as "an expanded prequel," but plot details and a release date are under wraps for

We do know that Brvan Fuller ("Hannibal") is onboard as writer, showrunner and executive producer and that A24 is the studio behind the series.

At the time, original screenwriter Victor Miller. who now serves as one of "Crystal Lake's" executive producers, was embroiled in a lengthy legal battle over authorship rights. In 2021, Miller reclaimed the domestic and nonexclusive foreign rights to the original screenplay, thus clearing the way for this return trip to Camp Crystal Lake.

Niecy Nash-Betts stars in "The Rookie: Feds"

BODY OF LIES

sноw 4:15 р.т.

A CIA representative in the Middle East doesn't have enough evidence to implicate a terrorist in this action film, but while digging deeper, his girlfriend is taken hostage. Now he must decide between his career and his love. Leonardo DiCaprio stars.

CHOPPED

FOOD 8:00 p.m.

The chef's baskets are loaded with unbelievable ingredients in this new episode of the long-running cooking competition series. The first basket holds a cut of pork not available at the local supermarket, and the challengers contend with a wild stew.

THE ROOKIE: FEDS

10:00 p.m.

After a father and daughter are kidnapped on Thanksgiving in this new episode, the team discovers a hostage situation involving police deputies. Meanwhile, Laura (Britt Robertson) and Brendon (Kevin Zegers) search for the identity of the kidnapper.

Shaquille O'Neal stars in "Shaq"

sноw 9:45 a.m.

Tim Blake Nelson stars in this recent Western. A quiet man and his son agree to take in a wounded stranger and his bag of cash. While the stranger claims to be a sheriff on the run from outlaws chasing him, the man can't be sure who to trust.

нво 9:00 р.т.

This new, four-part docuseries, detailing the life and career of NBA Hall of Famer Shaquille O'Neal, premieres this evening. The series starts off with the origin of Shaq's enduring legend, from growing up in a military household to his NBA stardom.

HOUSE HUNTERS

нату 10:00 р.т.

A single mom who has built a successful business looks to finally purchase her first home in the New Orleans area in this new episode. She wants a show-stopping mansion, but her friend hopes to convince her to spend her money more conservatively.

WHAT THIS PLACE NEEDS IS ACTIVE PLAY EVERY DAY.

Thanks to our work with NFL PLAY 60, we've brought fun fitness programs to more than 35,000 kids. And it can happen here too.
